This was originally written during the 1980s and completed in 1991. I have been using it as a textbook for my course The Human Adventure (ANTH 311ic at CSULB) for many years. As part of my process of updating it for the twenty-first century, I am making this earlier version (with some editing) available on the web in the summer of 2003. It is available in both html and pdf format, but must be downloaded one chapter at a time.
