

History

The Student Center for Professional Development (SCPD) was originally established 25 years ago as the Minority Business Program. Shortly thereafter the name was changed to the Mentoring Business Program. These name changes reflect an expanded charter, which facilitates the academic and professional success of all students within the college. SCPD provides resources and programs that develop leadership skills, career planning, academic success and civic engagement. We connect SCPD students to other students, to the campus, to the community and to the corporate world. Through the mentoring relationships, we hope to develop meaningful learning experiences for both students and mentors.
