

Cynthia Stamper Graff

President and CEO of Lindora, Inc.

A nationally recognized expert on weight management, Cynthia Stamper Graff is President and CEO of Lindora, Inc., the largest multi-site medical weight control system in the U.S. Working Woman magazine ranked Lindora among the "Top 500 Women Owned Businesses in America" for three consecutive years.

Ms. Graff also established the Lean for Life Foundation, which promotes obesity research and educational programs. Prior to her work at Lindora, she founded The Road Butler, an emergency road service company. Earlier, she established MC Financial Real Estate Brokerage and Development.

A member of the Founding Fifty Women's Philanthropy Fund of United Way, Ms. Graff serves as an advisory board member of the Susan Samueli Center for Integrative Medicine. An Orange County Business Journal "Women in Business Award" winner, she is also member of the Young Presidents Organization and Adaptive Business Leaders.

During her senior year at CSULB, Ms. Graff participated in a College of Business Administration (CBA) program sponsored by the Small Business Association for which she helped design a manufacturing and warehouse facility for a prosthetics company. Recently named CBA's Distinguished Alumna for 2010, Ms. Graff has also served as a Woman in Philanthropy board member and has sponsored grants to CSULB dietician program students.

In 2010-2011, Ms. Graff served as the Ukleja Center for Ethical Leadership's William Dickson Leader-in-Residence. She made four presentations on campus focusing on entrepreneurship, ethical leadership, and living a healthy lifestyle.

Ms. Graff feels blessed to be a part of a large family – her father, two brothers, and brother-in-law – who all work at Lindora. Her hobbies are golf, reading, and psycho-neuro immunology (understanding the mind/body connection).
