

The Bureau of Government Research and Service (BGRS)

The Bureau of Government Research and Service (BGRS) is a unit within the Graduate Center for Public Policy and Administration (GCPPA) in the College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) of the California State University, Long Beach (CSULB). The Bureau was created in 1976. It is headed by a Director, John W. Ostrowski, jostrow@csulb.edu who reports to the Chair of the Center, Martha Dede, Ph.D., mdede@csulb.edu.

The mission of the BGRS is to support the research, teaching, and service functions of the GCPPA. The BGRS conducts research of benefit to the discipline of Public Policy and Administration and disseminates that research. The BGRS supports the teaching mission of the Center by providing opportunities for MPA students to develop their skills by working on BGRS projects. The BGRS provides a variety of services to Public and non-profit organizations in Southern California, linking academics with practitioners. The BGRS supports Center faculty through purchases of instructional equipment and funding faculty travel to professional conferences.
