

BLOGGER WANTED FOR COMPANY WEBSITE

See note below from employer to Barb

Would one of your CSULB students be interested in a position writing a weekly blog for one of my clients for about an hour a week?

I am looking to launch a blogging effort for them, and need a writer. Probably 500 to 800 words a week that they can write from home and then e-mail over to me to edit and post into the company's authoritative blog.

They do websites who exhibit at various industry expos – like wedding vendors.

It would be an hour a week – done in their free time – for about $10/hour.

See Barb for more details.
