The Washington Center: Inside Washington Seminar Scholarship

Seminar:

Every day brings a new challenge to our national leaders and Inside Washington continues the tradition of bringing these issues into perspective for college students and faculty interested in learning more about what goes on behind the scenes and in the corridors of power in the nation's capital. Combining lectures, site visits, tours, and special events, it is one of the best ways to see the impact of the political process close up and to learn how the nation's leaders are addressing important issues of the day. The first week of the program will focus closely on the first year of the Obama Presidency as well as the potential impact of the 2012 elections on both domestic and foreign policy. The second week will provide special insight into how the media covers national politics and policies and communicates them to various audiences. It also will focus on how candidates are using new media forms. Please view the website for more details about the program at www.twc.edu/insidewashington.

Scholarship:

The recipient of the scholarship will have the $2,055 Program Cost provided by the Career Development Center, which includes housing in Washington D.C. and participation in The Washington Center: Inside Washington Seminar from January 3-15, 2010.
