

Response Magazine – the only independent B2B source for news and information for professionals in the direct response marketing business – is looking for a part-time (two days per week), non-paid intern for the fall months. The ideal candidate is a strong writer and researcher, a confident copy editor, familiar with InDesign, an organized multitasker and an independent worker. An interest in the marketing industry is a plus. This is a great opportunity to get a real hands-on experience at a national B2B magazine.

Requirements: Journalism or communications major; strong writing skills; knowledge of AP style; knowledge of InDesign; Web experience; reliable; organized; must be available at least 15 hours per week. Please E-mail a cover letter and resume to jrenfrow@questex.com. Please visit www.responsemagazine.com for more information about our magazine.
