

California State University, Long Beach
The Spanish Graduate Student Association in affiliation with the Department of Romance, German, Russian Languages and Literatures
proudly presents:

Dr. Diana R. Quevedo
El “branding” de Colombia:
de García Márquez al rap chocoano

Dr. Diana R. Quevedo, a Professor of Latin-American literature and Culture from the University of Evansville, will trace the trajectory of Colombia’s “branding,” from García Márquez to contemporary rap from the Chocó region. Her approach will highlight cultural elements focusing on music and popular religion.

Wednesday November 2
2:00-4:00 PM | AS 384

MONÓLOGO DE ISABEL VIENDO LLOVER EN MACONDO

Questions? Contact: Dr. Rita Palacios rpalacio@csulb.edu; Dalia Gómez SGSA, President sgsa@csulbclasc.org

This event is brought to you by:

RGRL

SGSA