Long Beach, CA –This year's Homecoming marks 60 years of students, alumni, faculty, and friends all joining together for some black and gold, Forty-niner fun.

To kick off the week of activities, the annual Pep Rally will be held in the Walter Pyramid on Thursday, Nov. 12 at 7 p.m. The Cheer and Dance teams and Prospector Pete will all be there to rile up the fans and invite students to a new year of basketball action.

The night before the game will include the festivities of past years, and the launch of a new one as well. Associated Students, Inc. will be hosting an all-night student camp out in the brand new Student Lounge inside the Pyramid. Students can get pumped up with other basketball fans while enjoying free food and games. The lounge will stay open before each game beginning Friday, Nov. 13.

The Long Beach State Men's Basketball team will attempt to beat the University of Alaska Anchorage Seawolves to the championships on Saturday, Nov. 14 at 4 p.m., but not before the student tailgate.

Student clubs and organizations will compete for the team with the most spirit in Lot 14 with the theme, "Forty-Niner Days." The tailgate tops off with the annual vote for CSULB's Homecoming King and Queen.
