For Immediate Release

Long Beach, CA – California State University, Long Beach and Associated Students, Inc. are welcoming their students back to another semester with an added spin at Week of Welcome, Feb. 3 and 4.

The first weeks of classes will be celebrated with a game show theme where Prospector Pete will play host and students will be the contestants roaming the tables with their eyes on the prize.

The fun kicks off Wednesday, Feb. 3 with the Student Organization Fair on the Speakers Platform from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Students can interact with CSULB's clubs and sports teams. Free Carl's Jr. will be available to the first 200 students wearing Beach gear.

On Thursday, Feb. 4, the Student Organization Fair continues and will give students a chance to get acquainted with another variety of groups and organizations at CSULB. Hungry students should wear their Beach gear and get there early since El Pollo Loco is giving away free food to the first 200 students.

"Students should come to Week of Welcome to get involved on campus and see all the different organizations, and what they provide for our University," said ASI Student Orientation Commissioner Kasey Schoen.

There are a lot of exciting things students have to look forward to this semester, so jump in welcome back to The Beach.
