Dear Friends of Engineers Without Borders – USA,

Thank you for your interest in Engineers Without Borders – USA. We hope that this package of information will help you become acquainted with our organization and our mission to partner with developing communities to improve their quality of life through the implementation of environmentally and economically sustainable projects, while mentoring internationally responsible engineers.

EWB-USA continues to be the catalyst organization that links host communities in need with professionals and students committed long term to helping them with their engineering needs. Our holistic approach to the overall health and sustainability of a community makes a difference in the day-to-day lives of its members. With every project, we also meet our goal of providing a hands-on educational platform for training new generations of students and professionals in the principles of global stewardship. Your support and partnership will enable us to realize our goals. During the past year, we:

- Delivered over 80 new additional community projects.
- Organized and established over 112 student chapters while guiding many more universities interested in starting chapters.
- Supported over 44 established professional chapters and many more interested.
- Supported more than 500 volunteers who have traveled to developing communities on assessment or implementation trips.

We have accomplished a lot, but the best is yet to come. We hope that you will join us in fulfilling this exciting mission.

Respectfully,

Catherine A. Leslie Executive Director
