Electrical and Computer Engineering Honor Society

Eta Kappa Nu, Epsilon Theta Chapter - California State University, Long Beach - Est. February 13, 1965

Faculty Member,

In honor of their excellent scholastic record, the members of our Eta Kappa Nu chapter, Epsilon Theta have invited _____ to join Eta Kappa Nu (HKN), the Electrical and Computer Engineering Honor Society.

HKN uniquely honors ECE students who have achieved substantial success academically, possess leadership qualities, and have fine character. Their success at California State University, Long Beach qualifies them for admission into HKN.

As an HKN member, they will have an opportunity to work with other HKN members and faculty in service programs that will hone their skills for a professional future. They will develop leadership abilities and have an opportunity to cultivate a lasting network with the most successful students in your department.

Corporations recognize the importance of being an HKN member. Often, membership in this honor society is an influencing factor in the decision to make a professional job offer.

This student requests your endorsement in order to become a member of this distinguished honor society.
