

SAVE THE DATE!!!

Defining Autism from Brain to Mind through Mice, Monkeys, and Men –
From Neurobiological &
Neuropsychological Perspectives

May 1, 2009 (Friday)

8:30 – 11:30 am Dr. Loren Martin (Autism Research)

12:30 – 2:30 pm Dr. Mary Jo Lang (Neuropsychological Assessment of Autism)

Location TBA (Either APU, Orange Campus, or PYLUSD, Board Room)

~ Continental Breakfast Included ~

Fees: $35 Non-members; $25 Members/Students

Register early at www.ocasp.net as space is limited!!!

Drs. Martin and Lang are both fulltime faculty members at Azusa Pacific University (APU).

Dr. Martin completed his postdoctoral studies at the M.I.N.D Institute and at UC Davis. He has focused his career on autism research both with humans and monkeys.

Dr. Lang is board certified in pediatric neuropsychology. Throughout her career, Dr. Lang has worked with children diagnosed with Autism Spectrum. She has dedicated her career to autism so much so that she founded the Beacon Day School, a specialized school for children with Autism Spectrum Disorder, located in Orange, CA in 2004.