Science Learning Center with Jim McKibben

Was that an earthquake I just felt? How did the Science Learning Center's "Merlin" and "Houdini" get their names? What makes a flea so irritating to my pet? These and many other mysteries will be answered when the Staff Council's Munch 'n Learn tour visits the Science Learning Center (basement PH 2 – 010) at noon on Tuesday, August 11. Come join us for an exciting visit to the wonders of science.

Meet at PH2-010
Limit 50 people (RSVP required)

Tuesday, September 15

Green Sustainability

Want to know what you can do & what the university is doing in the way of preserving resources & promoting sustainability for future generations? Paul Wingco the campus energy & sustainability manager will give a short presentation and answer your questions. Afterwards the group will walk over to close-by Vivian Engineering Center building to view the solar panels on the roofs of several campus buildings. If you choose to view the panels, please wear walking shoes, as some stair climbing and uneven footing will be encountered

Meet at the FM/SRM building, Room 103
(across from Key Issue)
Limit 50 people (RSVP required)

Art Department Gallery Exhibition Tour

CSULB is known for its outstanding Art Department. Visit the five galleries operated by the Art Department, each named in honor of a major CSULB art patron or faculty member, and see exceptional student artwork in a variety of media. Some of the student artists whose work is on display will be on hand to discuss their artwork. Exhibits generally change weekly and admission is free. Meet at the Art Galleries Courtyard between Fine Arts-2 and 3.
