

NEWS FROM THE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, LONG BEACH
COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

A Message from the Dean

Happy Fall! As you will see in this newsletter, the faculty and staff in the College of Education have been hard at work to provide cutting-edge curriculum, excellent instruction and clinical practice, rich research experiences, and wrap-around advising and support for our students. In this issue, we are excited to introduce you to our new Associate Dean, Dr. Rebecca Bustamante, and our new faculty who have recently joined the College of Education. You will read about the generous support of our alumni and friends who have invested in the next generation of educators, including our first cohort of Mary Jane Patterson Scholars who are preparing to teach young people who have experienced educational and socio-economic disadvantage in urban schools.

This newsletter also showcases the College's recent efforts in collaborating with partner educational organizations and non-profits in our community to help address mental health needs in our shared education space. Finally, the newsletter spotlights our faculty research and introduces you to some of our amazing students, staff, and alumni.

Go Beach, Go Teach, Go Lead!!

Shireen Pavri, Ph.D.

Dean

NEWS & NOTES

The CED Welcomes Dr. Rebecca M. Bustamante as New Associate Dean

The College of Education welcomed Dr. Rebecca M. Bustamante to her new role as Associate Dean, Community Engagement and Credential

Programs, at the start of the fall semester... Read more

Couple Endows Scholarship as Legacy to Parents

The College of Education has received an endowed scholarship from local educators in memory of both of their parents. The Edward and Dolores King & Edward and Barbara McClean Endowed Award will be offered to a first-generation student enrolled in the College of Education in either the Single Subject or Multiple Subject Credential Program... Read more

Long Beach Trauma Recovery Center Provides Workshops & Counseling After Threats of Mass Violence

The Long Beach Trauma Recovery Center (LBTRC) works to offer treatment and support in the wake of trauma to hundreds of people each year. This summer, the center was called upon to provide workshops and counseling sessions to employees at the Long Beach Marriott after a hotel employee threatened mass casualty... Read more

A Call to Action: Dr. Robert Teranishi Presents at Annual Cynthia Senn Johnson Institute

Dr. Robert Teranishi, Professor of Social Science and Comparative Education at the University of California, Los Angeles, was the keynote speaker at the 6th annual Cynthia S. Johnson Institute... Read more

CED's Research to Practice Exchange on Mental Health and Wellbeing Reinforces the Importance of Seeing Students Holistically

Each year, the College of Education hosts an event focused on fostering dialogue and meaningful exchange between College faculty and regional school district, community college and non-profit partners. This research to practice exchange provides a venue for exchanging ideas about research and problems of practice in our region... Read more

FACULTY FOCUS

Corinne Martinez: Connecting Career Goals to Education

As an educator, Dr. Corinne Martinez values the importance of quality education, but also understands that sometimes students don't comprehend the relevance of what's being taught in the classroom. Answers to the age-old question, "How will I ever use this in real life?" are different for every learner. But

Martinez, associate professor of Teacher Education, is helping current and future teachers provide those answers one student at a time through Linked Learning... Read more

Charles Slater: Promoting Social Justice for All

In the United States, social justice advocates are concerned with whether economics and other spheres of life are equal for all. That could include the environment, healthcare, gender and race. Dr. Charles Slater is researching what it is like elsewhere... Read more

Norma Gibbs, CED Faculty Emeritus & Former Local Mayor, Passes At 94

Norma Gibbs was a trailblazer who created a rich legacy of teaching, community outreach, and civic engagement throughout her life. Recruited by CSULB's first President, Dr. P. Victor Peterson, Norma began her CSULB career teaching in the College of Education in 1957, where she served as both a professor in educational psychology and as a foreign student advisor... Read more

New Faculty Join the College

Dr. Heather Macias

Dr. Noah Asher Golden

Kerri Knight-Teague

PROGRAM SPOTLIGHT

Get to Know Your CED Support: Office of Clinical Practice (OCP)

The College of Education is a learning and teaching community devoted to equity and excellence, where staff work closely with faculty and administrators in supporting students in earning their degrees and credentials.

The College's staff members are integral to everything we do in the College; including assisting in student recruitment, advising, retention, program culmination, and degree/credential attainment; supporting College and University operations; promoting College programming, events and professional development; and extending our impact through community engagement, accreditation, partnership and development efforts... Read more

The Caminos Project at CSULB

The Caminos Project was developed to take advantage of the large scale of CSULB's teacher preparation programs, and its institutional links to undergraduate subject matter preparation programs, to expand the number of Latinx teachers in elementary and secondary public schools.

The HSI Caminos Project is a grant-funded initiative that works in collaboration with the College of Education and the Department of Chicano Latino Studies. The grant aims to encourage Latinx students to join the teaching profession and to prepare effective, well-prepared, and culturally adaptive educators.

Meet Coordinator, Yesenia Hernandez and Academic Coach, Sambath Phann, and get to know the Caminos Project in the College of Education.

Mary Jane Patterson Scholars - Future Teachers Committed To Excellence In Urban Education

The Mary Jane Patterson Scholarship was established in 2019 as part of the Teachers for Urban Schools Initiative. This recruitment scholarship was created to support elementary, secondary and special education credential students in the College of Education at CSU Long Beach who are committed to teaching children and youth who have experienced educational and socio-economic disadvantage... Read more

STUDENT PROFILE

Doctoral Student Dale Lendrum Recognized with CSU Trustees Award

Dale Lendrum was sitting in a drug rehabilitation program class when he began to ponder the idea of furthering his education. If he could maybe, just maybe, turn around his life, he might make something of himself. That was 11 years ago. This week, Lendrum, a former drug addict and criminal turned Ed.D candidate, was honored with the CSU Trustees Award... Read more

Governor Newsom Appoints Ed.D. Alumna to CA Community Colleges Board of Governors

Dr. Alma Salazar, alumna of the College's Ed.D. program in Educational Leadership, has been appointed by the Governor to the California Community Colleges Board of Governors, which sets policy and gives direction to the 115 colleges and more than 70 districts within the state... Read more

SHARE AN UPDATE OR ANNOUNCEMENT

MAKE A GIFT

Go Beach! Go Teach! Go Lead!

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY LONG BEACH
COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

www.csulb.edu/ced

View as Webpage

CSULB | 1250 Bellflower Boulevard, Long Beach, CA 90840

Unsubscribe {recipient's email}.

Update Profile | About Constant Contact

Sent by cedinfo@csulb.edu in collaboration with

Try email marketing for free today!