

Practicing Peace

November 17, 2009

Calling all peace makers in Long Beach! The Center for Peace and Social Justice along with the College of Liberal Arts is pleased to announce our 2nd Annual Practicing Peace Festival.

Please join us for a day of peace, music, dance and poetry at the California State University, Long Beach campus. Organizations, musicians, dancers, poets, and singers are welcome to participate in this year's festival by performing or tabling. Join us as we effectively work toward creating positive change in our communities, environment, and our world.

Ways to participate this year:

- Table at the event! (minimum $20 donation)
 - Donation secures: a 6ft table, 4 chairs, and your group's name listed on all advertisements. (Parking passes will also be made available for non-campus affiliated groups)
 - Fundraising efforts are encouraged, but must be approved by the coordinator.
- Organize a peace activity
 - a skit, discussion materials, creative arts, meditation, yoga, energy healing, etc.
- Volunteer
 - Volunteer duties include posting flyers, festival set-up, planning and organizing. (both prior to and the day of the event)
- Perform at the event
 - All performances will begin at 12:00pm and end at 4:00pm. If you or your group would like to perform, please contact Alisha Herrick asap in order to secure your time slot. Space is limited!

THANK YOU!

We greatly appreciate all donations and financial contributions that help to supplement this important event.

Any questions? Please contact
Peace Festival Coordinator Alisha Herrick: aherrick@csulb.edu

Festival Registration: September 21st through October 19th