

ANNOUNCEMENT

Ethics Across the Curriculum and Research Stipends to 16 CSULB Faculty

The Ukleja Center for Ethical Leadership at California State University, Long Beach is providing students from majors as diverse as theatre arts, marketing, educational leadership, speech-language pathology, and geography with essential ethical decision-making tools before entering the workforce.

Through one of its key initiatives, Ethics Across the Curriculum, the Ukleja Center offers $3,000 stipends to faculty who integrate a 3-hour ethics module into their courses. By selecting recipients from 5 colleges – Arts, Business, Education, Health and Human Services, and Liberal Arts – the Ukleja Center is truly enhancing the integration of ethics across the campus. In addition, the center has recently begun offering $5,000 faculty stipends for original ethics research.

President Jane Close Conoley, Kathleen Lacey, and Brenda Freshman celebrating with the Ukleja Center's Ethics Across the Curriculum awardees

The 14 faculty members receiving 2017-2018 pedagogical stipends are:

- Edwin Achola – Asset-based Assessments: An Ethical Approach to Transition Assessment
- Hyowon Ban – Ethics in Digital Cartography using Big Data and GI Science
- Michelle Barrack – Ethics of Dietary Supplement Use in Nutrition and Dietetics
- Erin Biolchino – Using Personal and Professional Ethics in Educational Administration
- Andrea Caban – The Ethics of Performing in Accent: Exploring Sociolinguistic Implications
- Belinda Daugherty – Ethics in Speech-Language Pathology: Effectively Working with Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Clients
- Nina Flores – The Ethics of Educational Advocacy and Activism
- Sarvenaz Hatami – Ethics in Language Testing
- Todd Henneman – Ethics of Aggregation
- Youngok Jung – The Danger of a Single Story: Developing Ethical Approaches
- Laurel Richmond – Ethical Considerations when Supervising Recreation Staff
- Roudi Roy – Fertility Treatment Options and the Ethical Responsibilities of Family Life Educators
- Reo Song – Ethics and Corporate Social Responsibility in International Business
- Amy Wax – The Dark Side of Leadership: Power, Ethics, and Enacting Change

Suzie Weng accepting a Faculty Ethics Research award from Brenda Freshman

This year's ethics research stipend recipients are:

- Amber Johnson – Ethical Considerations for Engaging Black Populations in Research: A Community Perspective
- Suzie Weng – Social Work Provision in the Medical Context

Faculty received their awards at a campus luncheon attended by President Jane Close Conoley, Deans Cyrus Parker-Jeannette, Shireen Pavri and Michael Solt, and Associate Deans Dan O'Connor and Jennifer Ostergren. Also attending were the center's directors, Janey Roeder, Kathleen Lacey, and Brenda Freshman, along with several donors.

Over 90 Ethics Across the Curriculum and Faculty Ethics Research stipends have been granted by the Ukleja Center since 2005. All CSULB colleges and disciplines are invited to participate and lecturers, as well as tenured faculty, are encouraged to apply. The application deadline for 2018-2019 proposals is March 1, 2019.

The Ukleja Center for Ethical Leadership offers training to enhance the integration of ethics in everything we do. It focuses on a three-pronged approach to applied ethics – education, university research, and community engagement – to equip people with the transformational power of ethical leadership.

###

Contact: Jane Roeder, Interim Director

Phone: (562) 985-8600