The Constitution of the United States of America

 1787-1987Dear Student:
This year marks the 200 th anniversary of the drafting of the Constitution of the United States of America It is appropriate that California State University, Long Beach commemorate this bicentennial in its 1987 Bulletin for there is a very direct relationship between the rights and responsibilities that we enjoy as citizens of this country under the Constitution and the rights and responsibilities that we enjoy as citizens of an academic community.
Several of the "founders" who established the form of government for the United States later served in the First Congress which met in 1789. There they form of the first ten Amendments to the Constitution which are known as the Bill of Rights, those special "rights and personal liberties" for which Americans had fought so hard in the revolution against British ule. Arguably, the most important the top of the list, is the right to free speech. As the First Amendment states, "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press....." In the First Amendment, the framers categorically guaranteed Ame ideas and to be informed by the ideas o others. of Without these freedoms, where would universities be? Are not teaching and learning dependent upon the free exlearning dependent upon the free exJustice Oliver Wendell Holmes once re marked that the "Constitution is made for people of fundamentally differing views. "Universities, as well, are made for people of differing views. Learning takes place when we get together and share those views. So central is this idea of free speech in the teaching/learning environment that we have given a spe cial name to it: "academic freedom." "Academic freedom" encourages faculy and students to share and interpret their ideas and those of others, no matter how controversial - or even offer Only in this way can critical thinking de velop, thought be refined, and learning advanced. Such an environment is es sential to the preservation of our demo cratic republic as it enters its third cenfury of existence. niversities would do well to read the Constitution and especially the Bill of Rights. The activities in which we engage - teaching and learning - are directly related to the freedoms rectly related to the freedoms embodied in them.

while also deriving support and re evance from it. In seeking distinction as is committed to quality in all of its educational programs.
As a comprehensive University, CSULB seeks to provide instruction eading to appropriate degrees in every do the continued progress and prosperity of the human community. Those degree programs currently offered are those which are from time to time proposed in the Academic Master Plan and represent the responses which the Unitors, and alumni, have made to an everchanging social and physical environment - such as changes in student interests, changes in student placement opportunities, changes in the resources which are external to the University, and ademic disciplines. The responses of the University are contingent upon preservation of the liberal arts and sciences and general education core as well as the strengths of major disciplinary programs, which incorporate the essential ative activity, and service at the frontier of human knowledge. A particular focus has been given to interdisciplinary and international-intercultural connection between and within fields of study.
The liberal arts and sciences are the academic core of the University upon which the quality of the whole is founded. These fields provide instruction in the basic skills necessary for advanced training and the academic foundation necessary to acquire philosophical, necessary to acquire philosophica analytical, empirical. historical, and applied knowledge. To provide sound, forward-looking instructional programs in the applied tields and in the protes sions, the mission of the University is governed by the precept that an appro priate balance with the liberal arts and plied and professional programs and between them and the traditional center of intellectual endeavor. A major emph sis has also been given to field experences and internships so that students ave an opportunity to relate theory and professionals in their chosen field. Post-baccalaureate instruction is equally necessary to the mission of the University. Graduate instruction proides access to advanced learning at engaged in occupational pursuits as hey advance to positions of expertise and influence in society. Master's degree programs also provide that essenial frame of reference for the participaand useful applications appropriate to he urban setting and comprehensive nature of the University.

dministrative Symbols

The symbols AU (Audit), SP (Satisfac ory Progress), RD (Report Delayed), I complete), and W (Withauthorized In cussed below, are not used in comp ing the grade point average. AU - Audit. Enrollment as an auditor is subject to permission of the instructor. Enrollment in a course as an auditor shall be permitted only after students therwise eligible to enroll on a credit Auditors hare sub opportunity to do so. Auditors are subject to the same fee class attendance is expected. Once enolled as an auditor, a student may not hange to credit status unless such a hange is requested prior to the last day to add classes. A student who is enrolled for credit may not change to tion. To establish auditor status in a ourse students must file an Audit Car in the Office of Admissions and Records.
SP - Satisfactory progress. This symbol is used in connection with courses requiring multiple enrollment, i.e., that extend beyond one academic term. It in dicates that work is in progress and ha factory to date, but that to be satisfinal grade must await completion of al units required. Cumulative enrollment in units attempted may not exceed the total number applicable to the student's educational objective. Work is to be completed win one gree theses.

RD - Report Delayed. This symbol is mit processing of all final grades when the grades for an entire class section have not been reported by the instructor The symbol does not imply any academic evaluation.
If an instructor fails to report a grade or an individual student, the Registrar signed and so will enter a symbol " $U$," discussed below.

I- Incomplete. The symbol "I" indi cates that a portion of required course has not been completed and evaluated in the prescribed time period due to unforeseen, but fully justified, reasons and that there is still a possibility of earning credit. It is the responsibility of the stuattention of the instructor and to determine from the instructor the remaining course requirements which must be satisfied to remove the Incomplete. A final grade is assigned when that work has been completed and evaluated. within one calendar year immediately following the end of the term during which it was assigned, whether or not the student maintains continuous enrollment. Failure to complete the assigned work will result in an "I" being counted as a failing grade for grade point aver(except as noted in item 3 immediately below.)
An extension of time may be granted for contingencies such as military service or documented, serious health or personal problems.

the instructor on a "Requirements for Assigning an Incomplete Grade" form. This form shall include a statement of

1) all work completed in the course, the grades assigned for that work and the percentages of the final grade accounted for by each item; 2) the work not completed and the ed assignment will count toward the final grade; and
2) the final grade the instructor will assign if the course requirements are not completed within one calendar year (or a shorter period as specified on the form) immediately following the term in which the "I" was assigned, without respect to was assigned, without respect to continuous enrollment of the student during this period.
A copy of the agreement is to be giv en to the student, a copy is to be retained in the department office, and a copy is to be filed with the Office of Ad missions and Records at the time final grades are submitted. Normally, the stuIf the student is eligible for an Incomplete, a faculty member may assign an "I" even when the student cannot be present to sign the form. In such a case, the instructor will forward to the student a copy of the form via the department of fice. When the work agreed upon has grade will be assigned by an instructor.
U - Unauthorized Incomplete. The symbol "U" indicates that an enrolled student did not withdraw from the course but failed to complete course requirements. It is used when, in the opinion of the instructor, completed assigninsufficient to make normal evaluation of academic performance possible (letter grades A-For an Incomplete). For purposes of grade point average and progress point computation this symbol is equivalent to an "F." In courses which are graded Credit/No Credit or in cases where the student has elected Credit/ where the student has elected Credit/ " U " is inappropriate and "NC" will be used instead.
W - Withdrawal. The symbol "W" indicates that the student was permitted o drop a course after the third week of instruction with the approval of the instructor and appropriate campus offiof student performance and is not used in calculating grade point average. Students are held responsible for completion of every course in which they register or for withdrawing during he first three weeks of classes from courses which they do not intend to application for withdrawal from the University or from a class at the Office of Admissions and Records whether they have ever attended the class or not; oth rwise, the student will receive a grade " $U$ " (unauthorized incomplete) in the ourse. Application for withdrawal is also The California State University policy on "Return of Fees.")
1. Withdrawals during the first three Withdrawals during the first three weeks of instruction: Students may weeks of instruction: Students may withdraw during this period and the course will not appear on their permanent records. To do this, a student must file a Complete Withdrawal Application Form to drop all Form for a specific class or classes. Fees are not refundable after the second week of classes. 2. Withdrawals after the third week of instruction and prior to the final ree weeks of instruction: Withdrawals during this period are perpelling reasons. The procedure for withdrawals during this period is the same as in item 1 except that the approval signatures of the instructor and department chair are equired. The request and approvalthdrawal. Students should be withe aware that the definition of "serious and compelling reasons" as applied by faculty and administrator may become narrower as the seapprovals are kept on file in the Of fice of Admissions and Records.
Withdrawals during the final three weeks of instruction: Withdrawals during the linal three weeks of inin cases such as accident or serious illness where the circumstances causing the withdrawa are clearly beyond the student's control and the assignment of an ncomplete is not practical. Ordinarily, withdrawals in this category the campus except that a Credit/ No Credit grade or an Incomplete may be assigned for courses in which sufficient work has been completed to permit an evaluation to be made. Request for permiscumstances must be made in writ ing on forms available at the Admissions and Records Office. The requests and approvals shall state the reasons for the withdrawal. These requests must be approved by the instructor, department chair such approvals are kept on file in Admissions and Records.
. Medical withdrawals: A student who becomes seriously ill or injured, or is hospitalized and hence is unable to complete the academ c term may withdraw without acament for Medical Withdrawal obtainable from the Student Health Service, must be completed by the student's attending physician and ubmitted to the Medical Director. Additional evaluation by the Dire tor of Financial Aid may be refinancial aid. The Student Health Service, upon approval of such a equest, will forward its recommen dation to Admissions and Records
2. Instructor Withdrawals: An instruc tor may withdraw a student who has never attended a class by completing an Instructor Drop Card and submitting it to the Office fadmissions and Records along with the Enroliment Verification List classes. Students should not re on the instructor to drop them from classes they have never attended. Students should officially withdraw from classes themselves to avoid assignment of a "U" in the course
An instructor may also withdraw a student who has enrolled in a course requiring "permission of the instructor" or completion of prerequisites if the student has not properly secured this permission or sa sites sites before enrolling.
An instructor may exclude from the class as many students as necessary to bring enrollment to within the limits authorized by the Dean of the School. These limits are usually by State policy or national accreditation standards for the particular field.

Assignment and Change of ## Grades

General
University policy requires that final grades shall be based on at least hree, and preferably four or more, demonstrations of competence by the student. Students should be aware, however, that instructors may have a policy that a single instance of cheating or plagiarism may result in a failing grade in the class. (See the section on Cheating and Plagiarism later in this sec-${ }_{2}$ tion.)
2. In no case shall the grade on the final examination count for more
3. Instructors are expected to keep a record of students' scores on each of the demonstrations of competence on which the final grade is 4. based.
4. Students have a right to be informed promptly of their scores and to review each of their demol strations of competence with their instructors.
5. Instructors are expected to provide students with an opportunity for demonstration of competence, refinal grade in the course, as early as is reasonable and no later than the mid-point of the semester or summer session.
6. Instructors are further expected to make clear to their students during make clear to their students during the first week of instruction what grading policies and practices will be employed in the class and what rules will apply to withdrawals.
7. If materials submitted for a demonstration of competence are not returned these materials will be restructor or, should the instructor be absent during that term, retained in the department office. A qualified instructor may be appointed by the chair, in the absence of the original instructor, to review the demonsta dent.

Final Examinations

It is the policy in most courses to hav several examinations during the semes nations are required in all courses for students, except in certain activity courses or when the Dean of the Schoo authorizes an exception. The schedule of final examinations is given in the a final examination armission to take hat regularly schedua time other than cured at least one week in advance of any change. The instructor may not change the scheduled time for the final examination without authorizatio the School.

Final Grade Reports

Reports of final grades are mailed to each student at the end of each semes er or session.

sic Teaching Credential - Preliminary and Clear. The preliminary credential is issued when the candidate has met Uni versity requirements

1. A baccalaureate or higher degree in any subject, except profession education, completed in an accredited institution
A program of professional prepsion on Teacher Credentialing:
2. Passing the subject matter exami nation(s) of the National Teachers Examination (NTE) or waiving the NTE by completion of an approved credential major program or its equivalent in the B.A. in Liberal Studies program. (At CSULB the single subject candidate must complete a credential major [waiver] program);
3. Passing the California Basic Education Skills Test (CBEST) (in rea
4. Passing a college level course or examination on the U.S. Constitution.
The clear credential is granted when the candidate has completed all remain ing requirements which must be done within five years after the preliminary is issued. A clear credential requires 30 ate degree in an approved fifth-yearegram, which must include a course in gram, which must include a course in cial education. The clear credential can not be acquired by direct application, but must be recommended by the University. To obtain this institution's recom candidate must meet the requirement or equivalent of its approved credential program and complete a minimum of 15 of the 30 units of the fifth-year program at CSULB. The life credential is granted by the Commission on Teacher Credenverification of two years of full-time teaching or other certificated service in California for which the credential was required. This may include experience in a private School if the teaching satis fies the state School compulsory attential programs at three different levels:
5. Junior Level - With a carefully planned program, initial education courses may be taken at the junior level with completion of the profes sional education program within the four-year degree program, cul minating with a preliminary fiveyear credential. This permits the complete the fifth-year approved program for the clear credential.
6. Senior Level - Part of the credential program may be taken as an undergraduate to complete electives toward degree requirements then completed at the post baccalaureate level. The preliminary five-year credential is issued after completion of the professional program.

Post-Baccalaureate Credentia Credit in Senior Year
Up to six units of coursework taken in the final undergraduate semes ter not needed to meet major or degree requirements may be counted as postgraduate credit ward fulfillment of the fifth-year program by petition only. The peation must be filed prior to graduation. Criteria and petition forms are available in the Credential Prog Gams Otice, ED-1, room 6.
3. Graduate Level - The entire cre dential program may be completed at the post-baccalaureate leve thus fulfilling requirements for the clear credential.

The Liberal Studies Degree Program at California State University, Long Beach has been designed for students college education. This liberal Education prepares one for life through an encounter with the challenging ideas and rich experiences which provide the skills, the wisdom, and the understandtanding necessarily comes through a knowledge of the heritage of the modern world, through the study of its history, hrough an encounter with its art, literafure, and sciences, and through the discovery of the ideas, values, and beliefs that have actuated human beings in the Wisdom and understan quire a familiarity with cultures and traditions different from one's own and the ability to perceive the world from perpal education also leads to a recognition of the myriad systems of social, political, and economic relationships hat influence all humanity in the modern world. And, perhaps most importantly, a beral education provides an inherent understanding of the moral and ethical ment of character and ultimately an ability to make the difficult choices and decisions such understanding and character demand.
In addition to providing a broad liberal education, the Liberal Studies Procareer opportunities, for entry into proessional training, and for teaching or various other fields of public service. The program satisfies the State of Caliornia requirements for the Multiple Subdects (elementary school) Teaching Creeferred to as the "Waiver Program" because it substitutes for the multiple subects portion of the National Teachers xamination.

University Scholars Program

Director: Dr. Roberta Markman
Office: Library (East) Room 10 Phone: (213) 498-4706
The University Scholars Program exists to provide a selected group of qual fied students with a unique educational experience. It unites the committed student and faculty member in a learning relationship in which each has the highest expectations of the other. The Program seeks to accomplish these goals in two ways: first, it broadens students' intellectual horizons by encouraging closely related to their major fields of study: and second, it allows students to work in their major fields in greater depth than would be possible in a conventional course pattern. The work of the first two years satisfies, in part, the ments and is directed toward the first objective. The work of the Junior and Senior years, which includes independent study experiences and a senior thesis, is directed toward the second objective.
designed so that students will nom is master a substantial amount of knowledge, but will also develop the capacity for balanced intellectual judgment and the powers of abstraction and conceptualization. Students will be immersed in the learning process and therefore must have both the ability and willingness to do intense and often self-directed intellectual work as well as a desire to make the most of the opportunities available in the University.
Students who successfully complete ars Program will receive a Certificate which marks the graduate as a person of intellectual accomplishment, one whe has demonstrated a disciplined curios ity and dedication to the pursuit of knowledge.
ars Program are three alternaty Scholsigned to meet the varying needs of students.

1. General Honors
2. Honors in the Major or in a Specia (Interdisciplinary) Major.
3. A combination of the above for which both the course work prescribed for General Honors and the departmental requirements for fully satisfied.

General Honors

General Honors is a special approach to the General Education Requirements of the University which enhances and builds on them. It is a program of care-fully-selected courses and specially-de signed, multi-disciplinary seminars from which a student chooses a minimum of 30 units, most of which are applied toward the 51 units of General Education courses required for graduation of all General Honors credit encourage student participation on an academic leve not generally possible in the usual curricular offering.
The objectives of General Honors with are:
to provide highly motivated students an exceptional education opportunity to challenge and expand their intellectual capacities specially in terms of increased breadth and depth;
to deepen the students' intellecguiding their own curiosity:
to encourage freedom of initia tive;
to provide an academic and cultural environment that inspires creative activity through close working ulty;
to advise students in their academic planning to meet the University's General Education requirements through a cohesive and unified program of study:
to prepare students to write an Honors Thesis which is a genuine preparation for advanced study, and a demonstration that the student has acquired the intellectual confidence and academic indepen turely educated person.

Admission Requirements for General Honors
There are three ways a student may qualify for General Honors in the Univer sity Scholars Program:
By invitation: incoming students are invited to participate in General class standings, ACT composite score, and/or SAT scores. Normally students should be in the upper ter percent of their high School classes, and have a composite ACT score of 26 or better, an SAT score of 3.3 or better. However, if not all of hese criteria are met, a combinaion of them may be evaluated in addition to a letter of recommendaion and a personal interview with the Scholars Program Director.
dent who maintains a 3.0 or better overall grade point average at Caliornia State University, Long Beach 18 or more units of coursework is eligible to participate in General dation from one of her/his instrucors and a personal interview with the Scholars Program Director. Students with a grade point average of 3 for above in 18 or more units at California State University, Long Beach normally, will be granted automatic acceptance into the Pro gram upon application.
By petition: Students not meeting the designated criteria may petition for admission to General Honors. Students are required to submit letter structors familiar with their work (or in the case of incoming freshmen, from two high School teachers of heir senior year). These exceptional cases will be reviewed by the Diector and the University Scholars to petition if they have a good explanation for not meeting the basic equirements and/or a strong motivation to participate in the Program

General Information
Transfer students may enter General Honors in any of these three ways proof a 3.0 average of all course work at the accredited institution from which they are transferring. If a student is transfer ring with fewer than 18 college units, the ted for evaluation must also be subm ted for evaluation.

Honors as late as the ju er of some of the required Honors cred its (not more than 6) may be granted by the Director and the University Scholar Council.

Master of Arts Degree code 5-0405) and Maste Science Degree (code 6-0405) in a Special Major
The Master of Arts or Master of Scince degree in a Special Major permit aster's degree when their special needs or interests cannot substantially degree program. The special major master's degree is not a degree divided between or among disciplines, but is a cohesive program of studies which integrates the methodologies, perspectives A special maior master's degree must be justified by legitimate academic goals.
Acceptance of an applicant to a special major master's program is based on proposed course of study, the applicant's potential for successful comple tion of a master's program and the ability of the University to support the proposed study with faculty, curricula and facilities. Applicants should be aware that a master's degree in a special ma jor, although personally valuable, may not be acceptable as a preparation for a higher degree nor as adequate preparation for various professions and careers. Candidates should carefully assess goals before proceeding with this degree. The degree program is administhrough the office of the Special Maior Director, Academic Advising Center, Library East-106.

Prerequisites

projected. An interdisciplinary master's program requires demonstration of potential for success in each of the disciplines relevant to the proposed degree work. The purpose of prerequisites course work is, therefore, both to prepare applicants for advanced study and applicants for advanced study and to demonstrate their aptitude for it. Applicants should be aware that 24 units is a minimum and that the individual's graduate advisory committee may determine that additional preparatory work in one or more disciplines is necessary to support the advanced degree proposal. An individual's graduate advisory committee determines the appropriate prerequisite courses: these are listed on the Prerequisite Sheet that accompanies the Application for a Ma Special Major.
2. A 3.0 grade point average (on a 4 point system) in the last 60 units of upper division and/or graduate

The Program

The two- and four-year Air Force Re serve Officer Training programs develop officer candidates who have derstanding and high growth potential. Cadets develop leadership and manlem solving and lem solving, and other planning activities. All course work is done on campus except Field Training (conducted at an active Air Force base) and the Flight Screening Program (conducted at Hondo Field, Texas). All students attend either a four-or six-week Field Training sophomore and junior years. Field Train ing emphasizes military orientation for the officer candidate as well as aircraft and aircrew familiarization. Cadets receive physical training and participate trained in drill eand sports. They are trained in drili and ceremonies, and obing day-to-day operations.
Upon completing the ROTC program and obtaining a bachelor's degree, cadets are commissioned as second lieu tenants in the Air Force and serve a duty. Flight-qualified candidates attend light training after graduation. Other graduates begin active duty in a spe cialty consistent with their academic major, their desires, and existing Air delay from entry on active duty to continue their education or may apply for Air Force-sponsored graduate study to begin immediately upon starting active uty

Students desiring information should contact the department office for referral o one of the faculty advisors: Graduate Advisor, Undergraduate Advisor, Community Health Education Coorcinator Health education is concerned with the promotion of health and the prevention of disease and disability. Its focus is on the quality of life. Health education recognizes that actions are based upon physical, social, mental-emotional and terrelated and interdependent. Health is the goal, and education is the process. Health education's purpose is to bridge scientific knowledge and the application of that knowledge. The health educator works with others to take what is known bouthea viol practices. The havioral practices decision-making. Individuals are couraged to take responsibility for their own health and to assume some respon sibility for the health of their family and community. Society is ever changing.
Similarly, society's health problems are changing. It is increasingly apparent that future health advances will not come so much in the form of new technology. Instead, positive differences wil occur primarily as a result of individual actions. Incidence and prevalence largely upon the nature and quality of life one leads. An Undergraduate Handbook and Graduate Handbook are available fo majors, prospective majors and master's candidates. Brochures describing Industrial education is a study of industry primarily designed to prepare elementary, secondary and community gain an insight and understanding of industry and its place in the American culfure, discover and develop attitudes and skills useful for trades, professions and activities requiring technical information and skills.

The industrial education curriculum is lowing groups of students: (1) those pre paring to enter the teaching profession in the field of industrial arts who need the teaching credential; (2) those preparing for certification as manual arts therapists; (3) those who are teaching industrial arts and who desire to further industrial arts and who desire to further their professional growth; (4) those who desire to broaden their experiences but who do not plan on entering the teaching profession; (5) those who are vocationally qualified and who desire to qualify to teach industrial arts subjects in their special areas: (6) those who qualify for the designated subjects credential with specialization in vocational trade and technical teaching and who wish to teach occupational subjects in secondary schools, ROP and ROC cen secondary schoois, ROP and Rod cen cation.
Courses in industrial education also are designed for students completing majors in other subject fields and wish ing to take elective units in this area. Course offerings in industrial education have been selected so that the student can qualify for (1) technical training leading to the baccalaureate degree; (2) a teaching major or minor in industrial arts for the teaching credential; (3) the standard designated subjects credential with specialization in vocational trade and technical teaching; (4) the rade and technical teaching; (4) the dustrial arts; (5) a certificate in industrial plastics processing and design in association with the School of Engineering: (6) a certificate in automotive supervision; and (7) a certificate in graphic arts supervision supervision.
Graduate work in industrial education provides the opportunity for women to: (1) expand and increase competencies in one or more areas of specialization; (2) develop maturity of thought and attitude toward their profes sion: (3) gain insights into problems of sion; (3) gain insights into problems of professional leadership and knowledge to assume positions of leadership; (4) obtain the necessary understandings to be able to engage in research resulting in contributions of knowledge in an atmosphere of freedom of inquiry; and (5) engage in an interchange of ideas bespirit of research and scholarship to enhance one's personal and professional competencies.
The master of arts degree in industria arts is provided for: (1) those who are teaching and who want to complete the requirements for a master's degree to become better teachers, (2) those who participate in industrial training programs, and (3) those who wish to pursue work toward the doctorate degree. Each graduate applicant should request a copy of the official transcripts or all college course work be sent to the graduDepartment in addition to the copies required by the Office of Admissions and Records.

Bachelor of Science in

Nursing
The baccalaureate program offers courses that prepare the student to become a professional nurse. Two distinct ategories of students are eligible for admission: The "basic student" who eners the University without having completed a first level nursing program and he "registered nurse student" who, hav irst level, desires further study to expand her or his nursing capabilities to he professional level. Though each category of student enters at different evels, the terminal objectives of the nursing program are the same for both pletion of specific courses is eligible to write the examination for licensure to practice as a registered nurse. All graduates are recommended for certification as a public health nurse in the tate of California. The program is acredited by the California State Board o League for Nursing.
The purpose of the bachelor of science program in nursing is to prepare graduates to function as a professional nurse in the primary care role in a variety of settings. Graduates are expected to ing professional development

The curriculum is formulated to help he student develop understanding of self and others, intellectual curiosity and ability to work with colleagues to identify and resolve the health problems of individuals and families in a changing society. The professional nurse, while able to assess and intervene where health deviations exist, is committed to the role of naintaining health and preventing ill If and others.

Admission Requirements for the ## Nursing

The master of science degree is avail able to qualified students who desire advanced preparation in a variety of linical specialty areas
The philosophy of gre ducation is that the graduate nurse is constantly changing as health needs and health delivery systems are altered. ntegral to nursing is an ability to work ectively and cooperatively with other iscipines and commaty services to romote health.
The focal point in this curriculum is the nents of clinical medical knowled omplemented by behavioral science oncepts. Courses are interdependent and have been structured to provide pth in the area of student choice.
The graduate will have the knowledge nd skill to function as a nurse practiloner or clinical specialist in one of several specialty areas. Nursing research

The School of Engineering offers fouryear curricula leading to bachelor of sc and in technology which provide broad education and training for entry to the engineering and technology profession and for continuing academic work toward advanced degrees. Master of science degres anical engineering, and an interdisciplinary degree, the master of science degree in engineering, is offered also. Undergraduate programs provide opportunity to speciaize in the areas of biomedical, chemical, civil, computer, electrical, industrial manageand ocean engineering. The curricula in chemical, civil, computer, electrical, mechanical and ocean engineering are accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET), and the Industrial Technology program accredited by the Nation Technolog (NAIT) Many of the engineering courses are available in evening or on Saturday primarily for those employed in local industries.
The
The high school student planning to enter engineering or technology is adin biology, physics, chemistry, advanced algebra, trigonometry and one year of mechanical drawing in addition to the general requirements for admission to he University. Deficiencies in some of the above areas may result in an exten program in engineering or technology. The curricula are also designed to acommodate students transferring from other colleges such as the community colleges and liberal arts colleges. Transfer students should note and foow, where possible, the appropriate

Engineering Facilities

The engineering and industrial technology buildings house the School of Engineering and permit all engineering laboratory and design facilities, School and departmental offices and faculty ofand departmental oftices and faculty of-

Committee Statement
The School of Engineering subscribes to the following statement approved by the Engineering Liaison Committee of the State of California

Based on the 1970-71 requirements, any student of a California community ing, who presents a trajor in engineeratisfactory completionscript showing opor the following proposed core program in the lower division, will be able to enroll in this instituion with regular junior standing; and furstudent can complete an engineering program in four additional semesters with a regular bachelor's degree, presuming, upon transfer, that the student has completed at least 50 percent of the graduation unit requirement in that proof the student's choice will be dependent upon the proper selection of elec tive courses.

This policy is for either concurrent enrollment or summer enrollment. University policy must also be complied with. (See "Concurrent Enroliment" and "Transter of dergraduate Credit" in this Bulletin.) not be accepted for credit by the de partment.

Dual Degree Program

Students wishing to combine a professional engineering education with one in business, education, fine arts, humanDegree Program. The School of Engineering at CSULB has agreements with other Schools within the University and with other institutions which allow students to do this. After three years at the first institution, students transfer to CSULB as juniors to complete the two fiend of the first year at CSULB, students who have completed all of the requirements for their first degrees are awarded those degrees by the appropriate School or institution. At the end of their all engineering requirements receive their engineering degrees.

Degree Programs

See Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, MeChanical Engreering, Computer SciTechnology.
Based on the recent history of applications and student progress through the curricula, the School of Engineering expects to receive more applications from admissible students than it will be able to accept. Therefore students gust for the following Spring Semester and November for the following Fall Se mester.

The School of Engineering offers graduate study programs for the master and responsibililities undertaken by students training in this curriculum would not fall within one of the traditional specialties in engineering, e.g., civil, electrical and mechanical engineering. The student may pursue an interdisciplinary program selecting courses from the varonal information concerning the programs, special facilities, laboratories and research possibilities is obtainable from the School of Engineering.

rerequisites

1. A bachelor's degree in an accred-

- ted curriculum in engineering, or.
. A bachelor's degree in engineerence or other appropriate discipline with the requirement that essential undergraduate prerequisites in engineering be satisfied

3. Graduate students must consult with the graduate adviser for information concerning procedures and requirements for appropria approval of their courses of study prior to enrolling in their graduate programs.

Advancement to Candidacy

1. Removal of all undergraduate deficiencies as determined by the tee.
2. Students, at the discretion of the School of Graduate Study Committee, may be required to take examinations in their chosen areas 3. Passing the WPE.

Chemical engineering is concerned with the conversion of chemical materi-- als into products of increased economic utility and benefit to consumers. The chemical engineering curriculum gives the student a thorough background in chemistry, mathematics, physics, engineering science, and engineering design and analysis for application to curtential technical problems that might arise in the future. The objectives are to serve as preparation for immediate employment as a chemical engineer in industry, to provide a basis for later gradu ate study and research or to offer a study in business administration, marketing or law.
Students wishing to pursue advanced study may be interested in the Engineering School's Master of Science in Engineering degree. Graduate study leading to the MSE can be tailored to the goals of a student with a background in chemical engineering by taking advanced course work in the interfacing areas of chemistry, civil engineering (environmental area), electrical engineering (control and computer areas), mechani(control and computer areas), mechanical engineering (thermal, flutids and mation to chemical engineering. Thesis work may be done with chemical engineering faculty. Requirements for the MSE are specified in the preceding sec tion.
All chemical engineering students must have received a minimum grade
C in each of the prerequisites for any chemical engineering course.

The Department of Civil Engineering offers an option designed to give the ground essential to modern civil engineering practice. The program is built around a basic core of mathematics, natural and engineering sciences com mon to accredited professional engineering programs. It is planned to give a selection of basic engineering-science education to enable the graduate to begin a career in any of the various fields of practice in civil engineering or to prepare for graduate study in related engineering majors. It makes possible a systematic and integrated and alysis and the principles of structural and design, transportation systems, environmental systems, geotechnical engineering, water resources engineering, construction materials and urban engineer ing. Opportunity to explore a particula area of interest is offered in the wide selection of civi engineering electives to permit students a sequence of courses related to the area of their choice. The four engineering buildings house laboratory facilities in fluid mechanics and hydraulics, materials of construction, soils and foundations, structures, surveying, urban and environmental engineering. The Department of Civil Engineering offers graduate study programs leading to the degrees of master of science in civil engineering (M.S.C.E.) and the advanced degree of civil engineer (C.E.). These programs provide opportunities for graduate students to develop as civil engineers capable of compe through integrated curricula of engine ing and science while permitting a concentration in the student's area of interest. Areas of specialization include: environmental engineering, water resources engineering, geotechnical engineering, and structural engineering. Adneering, and structural engineering. Additional information concerning the programs, special facilities, laboratories and research possibilities is contained in the Civil Engineering Department brochures.

Some graduate laboratory and teaching assistantships are available to qualified graduate students. Applications should be sent to the department chair.

(code 7-4324)

The program leading to the civil engineer degree offers the qualified stude professionally oriented courses with greater concentration in civil engineering than is required by the master of science in civil engineering. This progran studies in other disciplines of the Uni versity.
Prerequisites

1. A master of science degree in civil engineering from an accredited in 3.5; or
2. A bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from an accredited institution with a minimum GPA
3. of 3.0; or
4. A bachelor of science degree in engineering, mathematics, physdisciplines from an accredited institution with a minimum GPA of 3.0 with the requirement that essential undergraduate prerequisites in civil engineering will be satisfied prior to commencing the student's engineering degree program.
. The graduate student must consult with the graduate adviser and Civ Engineering Department graduate brochure for information concerning departmental procedures and approvals of the course of study prior to enrolling in courses in the student's graduate program.
Exceptional cases not meeting the above minimum GPA may be considered by the Department Graduate Studes Committee.

Civil Engineer Degre

1. A Department Graduate Study Committee, consisting of the grad uate student's adviser and at least wo other faculty members, will be responsible for the formulation an supervision of each individual graduate student's program.
2. The committee shall determine candidacy admission, and requirements as to removal of undergrad uate and/or graduate prerequisite deficiencies.
3. Prior to determining advancement equirements the committee may, dent to take an examination in the chosen area.

Requirements for the Civi

Engineer Degree (C.E.)
units beyond the bachelor's degree in upper division and uate courses, approved by the student's Department Graduate Study Committee including:
a. A minimum of 36 units of 500 and 600 level civil engineering ine units to be written and pre sented orally.
b. Twenty-four units of 400,500 and 600 level approved electives.
2. No more than 30 units completed before advancement to candidacy may be used in completing the quirements for the CE degree

(A) Option in Computer Science and ngineering, offered by the Com Department (School of Engineering
(B) Option in Computer Science and Mathematics, offered by the Mathematics and Computer Scince Department (School of Humanities)
Information on option (A) is given in tis section of the Bulletin. For informa this Bulletin for the Mathematics and Computer Science Department
The Computer Science and Engineering option is an engineering oriented computer science degree and is accredited by ABET (Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology) The Computer Science and Mathemat ented degree. The goal of both degrees is to prepare graduates for a wide variety of computer- related careers by providing a balance between the theoretical and practical aspects of computer Science, and between hardware and software.

Option in Computer Science and Engineering
The option in Computer Science and Engineering is an engineering oriented computer science program which allow petence in computer sciences and rela ed fields. The program builds upon a strong base of mathematics, physics and engineering science. It includes a core of standard electrical engineering courses as well as courses in digital sy zation and design: programming software systems; theoretical computer science; and computer applications Opportunity to explore a particular area of interest is provided by elective units in the senior year.
The School of Engineering requires that all engineering majors must receiv which is a prerequisite for a course quired in an engineering program. No equired engmeering courses may be aken credit/no credit.

Bachelor of Science in  \section*{lectrical Engineering}

The degree in electrical engineering is esigned to prepare graduates for repign, sign, development, research, applicamunication systems, control system lectromagnetics, digital and analog electronic circuits, physical electronic omputer-aided design and power sys me the curriculum is built around a trong basic core of mathematics, phys ics and engineering science. This is followed by intermediate courses in electricial ized elective sequence terminating in a capstone design course.
A choice of senior elective sequence allows a comprehensive coverage of any of the above fields. Emphasis on computer software or computer hard vare is also provided the engineering building, and include basic as well as more advanced labora tory instruction in advanced electronics digital signal processing, control systems hybrid circuitry, electric machinery and computer systems.

Certificate Program In

Energy and Power System

Engineering

The 27 -unit Certificate Program in Energy Conversion and Power Systems gram designed to prepare electrical and mechanical engineering students to become proficient in the analysis and design of power generating systems, such draulic, nuclear, solar, wind and various other types of power plants.
For certificate requirements see the Mechanical Engineering Department section of this Bulletin.
Master of Science in Electrical Engineering (code 6-4330)
This program affords an opportunity Tor prove their competency in analysis and prove their competency the high technology needs of local industry. Each student selects three graduate courses in one area of emphasis where the remaining courses must augment and support that area of emphasis. Some current ex amples of areas of emphasis are optim theory and signal processing, computer engineering, integrated circuit design and biomedical engineering. Students may create other areas of emphasis win approval of the graduate advisor. Some laboratory and teaching assistantships dents. Applications should be sent to the department office.

Prerequisites

1. A bachelor's degree from an accredited curriculum in electrical gree from an accredited engineering, natural science, or other appropriate curriculum with the requirement that essential undergraduate deficiencies in electrical engineenieted prior to Advancement to Candidacy.
2. Graduate students must consult with the graduate advisor and obtain the MSEE handbook which covers procedures and requirements. A tentative program must be approved by the graduate advisor. That program must exhibit an area of emphasis comprised of at least three related graduate courses ( 500 or 600 level).
3. The prospective graduate student least 2.7 for the last 60 semester units (90 quarter units) attempted prior to entry into the MSEE program. The GPA is determined by Admissions.
Advancement to Candidacy
4. Removal of all undergraduate deficiencies as determined by the graduate advisor. The GPA must be at least 3.0 for all such courses attempted.
5. Demonstration of competence in electrical science by passing th departmental qualifying exam.
6. Demonstration of competence in echnical writing by passing an approved technical writing course with a grade of C or better, or by roviding acceptable proof of echnical writing ability
. Exassing the Writing Proficiency
7. Completion of at least 12 units as a graduate student while maintaining an overall GPA of at least 3.0 and a major GPA of at least 3.0

Engineering and Industria

 Technology AdvisoryCounci
The advisory council, composed of eaders actively engaged in areas of oncerned, continually provides information and guidance about industrial developments in methods, materials and lechniques so that the program reflects ee best of current practices. The members examine various aspects of the prohanges in course content, methods and/or facilities. Present membership in he council is made up of representaves from the following industries or orporations.
Carl Brooks, President, Carl Brooks, Inc. Dr. Michael J. Daugherty, Director, Electronics Research Laboratory, The Aerospace Corporation
Facilities Rey, Director of Palmdal Corporation

The programs in Engineering and Industrial Technology are designed for students who demonstrate an aptitude and promise for high level technical work with related administrative and management responsibility. Leadership awareness and ability are integral to the curricula and accomplished through a combination of lectures, seminars, discussions and workshops which expose the student to the real world of industry and the leadership challenges that it offers. Emphasis is placed on the technological as well as the sociological and managerial aspects of modern industry. The EIT programs have been designed to accommodate students who may wish to enter the University in a four-year program, or who may wish to four-year program, or who may wish to transfer credits earned at other colleges or approved technical or military service Schools. It is recommended that prospective students, prior to submitting an application for admission, be advised by a member of the Engineering and Industrial Technology faculty to discuss departmental requirements and the admission requirements of the University. There are four options in Industrial Technology:
Construction Management: Prepares a student for responsible positions in project management, contracting, estimating, costs and scheduling, inspection, proposals and specification writing tion, proposals and specification writing, and facilities planning and development in the construction and manufacturing industries.

Electronics: Prepares a person to serve in methods, planning, facilities, development, production and quality control and specification and proposal writing in areas of the electronic and control industries.
Manufacturing: Prepares a person to serve in tooling, methods, facilities planning and development, specification ning and development, specification and proposal writing, and liaison and management aspects of production in manufacturing industries.
Quality Assurance: Qualifies a person to serve in reliability, quality control quality assurance, inspection, metroltesting aspects of manufacturing enterprises.

Engineering and Industria Technology Facilities

The multimillion dollar building for engineering and industrial technology is designed with laboratories and modern equipment for instruction in planning and scheduling, foundry and pattern making, metallurgy and heat treating, metrology, quality assurance, construc tion and industrial materials testing, structures and environment; and modern processes, including electronic sys ern processes, including electronic sys tems and testing, electrochemical processes, microelectronics industrial elec tricity, plant layout and computers.

Bachelor of Science in

Industrial Technology

All Engineering and Industrial Technology students must have received a minimum grade of "C in each of the Industrial Technology course. In addition to any other All-University requirements regarding grade point averages for graduation, an Engineering and In dustrial Technology student must achieve a minimum of 2.0 average in al courses. courses Technoents enrolled in the Industria Technology B.S. program must com plete a minimum of 132 units. These courses cover the broad disciplines

Requirements for the Bachelor Science in Industrial Technology

CHEM 200, PHYS 100A, B, MATH 120, (the preceding courses apply toward General Education Breadth requirements); EIT 170, 211, 215, 215L, 300, 309, must be taken by all Industrial quirements for each option are indicated below.

Field Work Requirements:

Field work experience is required months (or equivalent part time) of employment in an approved industry or governmental agency. The student must continuously hold a position equivalent to a technician or higher which affords the opportunity to exer cise responsibility usually given to those who have completed two years of college. The field work must be completed prior to graduation, be certified and approved by the faculty of the department.

Industrial Facilities

Operations Certificate

The Certificate Program in Facilities Operations is designed to qualify the graduate to serve in plant engineering, ilities development and design, plant layout, and facilities and design, plan ment. Examples of the myriad positions available to the graduate of this program include facilities planner, construction supervisor, facilities or plant supervisor, acilities project engineer, and facilities design engineer.
This program provides the Industrial Technology graduate with a depth of technical knowledge in facilitios ations oriented technical courses, as well as the knowledge of behavioral sciences essential for managing technical unctions.
Requirements for the facinties operatio
The Certificate in Facilities Operations may be earned concurrently laureate degree.
2. This program is open to all majors who have fulfilled the prerequisites as stated in item 3 a
3. The program requires a total of 24 units as specified in items 3 b and 3 c .
a) The completion of supporting lechnical courses chosen in consultation with an adviser: PHYS 100 A-B, CHEM 200, MATH 102, E T 200 and lowe division construction require division
b) The following 21 units of facili-ties- operations- oriented 321, 322, 402 407, 408 and 321,

c) Completion of three units selected in consultation with advi sor
4. Any deviation from this program requires the written permission of the program advisor.

Industrial Safety Operations

 Certificate:The Certificate Program in Safety Op erations is designed to prepare student ark positions that require a strong industrial environments. Examples o this kind of position on are manufacturer's safety representative, manufac turing facilities safety analyst, traffic California or Federal agencies involvin public safety (e.g. OSHA). This interdis ciplinary program provides the student with a depth of technical training in safety, and related technical courses resources management necessary to effectively supervise safety programs

Requirements for the Certificate in

ngineering Degree Option

in Materials Engineering
Modern engineering applications in all fields require new materials with roperties well beyond those obtainable the alloys available several years go. New materials are needed for such ir transports ations as the supers mergence vessels, magneep subducting devices. Scientific knowledge in this area has expanded recently at a rate comparable to that experienced by the field of electronics. The materials option is offered to meet the demand for materials oriented engineers.

Course work is directed toward understanding of the properties of material terms of their atomic structure, and materials in engineering applications. The laboratories have excellent equipment for studies in this field and include structure, microscopic and $X$-ray diffraction examination of solids, therma and mechanical treatment and the determination of properties at low and high temperatures.

Option in Ocean Engineering

Administered by the Mechanical Engineering Department, the ocean engiseering option is designed to provide ocean environment and knowledge of the drastic effects this environment can have upon engineering endeavors. The curriculum is built around a strong basic core of mathematics, physics and engineering science. This is followed by analytical mechanics, fluid mechanics thermodynamics, materials and corrosion, ocean environment and underwater systems.
Laboratory facilities consist of a 40foot research vessel "Enginuity" oper larger ocean-going ship is available to the ocean engineering students, plus an inventory of modern electronic, acoustic systems and ocean measurement instruments for study and experience afloat.
This University is a member of the Southern California Ocean Studies Consortium of The California State versity.

Bachelor of Science in

 Mechanical EngineeringThe realm of mechanical engineering so extensive that training must be broad and basic, providing grounding in quires in order which an engineer reany specialized field. In view of this, me chanical engineering curriculum in cludes ample foundation courses in mathematics, physics, chemistry and design graphics. These are followed by courses in energy conversion, thermodynamics, fluid mechanics, mechanics and strength of materials, metallurgy, and design. Opportunity to explore further a particular area of interest is prosenior year.
The laboratories of the department are provided with modern equipment for undergraduate instruction in the following areas: instruments and measurements, fuels and lubricants, materials heat power vibration, design and acoustics.
Industry sponsored scholarships (Alcoa Foundation) are available to upper division mechanical engineering students. Further information is available in the department office

The learning opportunities within the School of Fine Arts reflect its comm ment to the arts in all forms. For performers, artists and scholars, the Scho designed for individual achievement. It offers programs to meet the needs of students who wish to pursue professional careers in art dance, design, music or theatre arts teach one or more of the arts; follow a degree program that provides a broad education in the arts; earn about the history and nature of he arts to complement studies in oth er disciplines and their lasting value to the quality 0 and the.
life.

The School of Fine Arts offers a variety of degree programs designed to meet high standards of excellence and to provide our students with appropriate back grounds consistent with their academic objectives. These include professionally become visual or performing artists the Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree and Master of Fine Arts Degree in the Departments of Art, Design, and Theatre Arts and the Bachelor of Music and Master o Music in the Department of Music.) addition, the Department of Dance provides an equally rigorous undergra uate program
For those students who are planning careers in secondary teaching, or wish to pursue the arts in a more scholarly, rather than performance oriented dira tion or prefer to obtain a more liberal ponent, all of the departments offer appropriate Bachelor of Arts degree options. The Departments of Art, Design Music and Theatre Arts also offer the Master of Arts Degree
The quality of the programs in the School of Fine Arts is evidenced by the fact that each department in the Schoo has met the standards and is an accred ited institutional member of the major accrediting agency for that discipline: The National Association of Schools of Art and Design, The National Association of Schools of Dance, The National National Association of Schools of Theater.
Other special programs include certificates in Biomedical lllustration, Music Therapy and Museum Studies. The Uni versity Art Museum presents exhibitions of professional stature focusing primarily Maiomporfary artists
Major performance facilities include and the Recital Hall of the new University Music Center. Additionally, an ex ceptional Theatre Arts complex and classroom and art studio space to serve almost any creative purpose provide the extensive performance calendar gene ated from the wide. ranging curriculum - concerts, theatre productions, dance performances and art exhibitions - has become a highly visible part of the cam pus, as well as an important cultural resource in the Long Beach/Los Ange ling Summer Festival of the Arts creates opportunities for special workshops and seminars, as well as attracting noted professional artists to the CSULB campus.
The nearly 200 faculty of the School of Fine Arts are themselves accomplished their expertise and experience to their teaching assignments.
Interaction between students is vital to the life of the School of Fine Arts; students join together in such pursuits as the bands, choirs, ensembles and orchestras of the Music Department, in the each theatre performance, in the choreography, performance and technical support that bring together a dance concert.
The School also enjoys the support of two long-established community organizations: Fine Arts Amfirates and Dramatic Allied Arts Guild. These groups award student scholarships and provide assistance for special projects and events within the School of Fine Arts Department Office: University Telecom munications Center, Faculty: Professors: Pat Finot, Joan M Schlaich; Associate Professors: Celeste K. Kennedy, Tryntje Shapli; As sistant Professor: Jeff Slayton Department Secretary: Kim Rourke Students desiring information should contact the department office er referra one of the faculty advisors.

The Dance Department provides an in-depth dance major program of stud technique, composition and performance and with supporting course work in ballet, jazz, and tap dance. The currculum is designed to give students a basic dance background which prepares them as a performer in concert a choreographer, or as a teacher at the secondary, community college or univer sity level in both public and private schools. The curriculum prepares students for graduate programs in dance. I gives the general education student and perience in dance as an art form. Nonmajor studio classes in ballet, modern dance, jazz and tap dance are open to all students on campus. Several courses are offered which meet the General Edu cation requirements in categories C . E . and I.C. The CSULB dance major is proved in the system. A large number part-time faculty members supplement the expertise of the full-time faculty. Dance concerts with faculty, students and visiting artists are held in the University Theatre and in dance studios. Daed to participate in activities of the Dance student organization, "Dancers In Motion.'
Students wishing to major or minor in dance must audition for placement pric to starting the program. Auditions are held in November, April and August. Ap of Dance in advance of enrollment. No maior studio classes are open to all students with no audition.
The department is an accredited inst tutional member of the National Association of Schools of Dance.

The Department of Design was estab lished to provide an administrative and academic framework for professional design training in the fields of Industria Design, Interior Architectural Design Visual Communications Design, and Display/Exhibition Design. The degree Bachelor of Fine Arts, the Master of Arts, and the Master of Fine Arts, with the Bachelor of Science offered in the In dustrial Design curriculum.
The faculty of Design believe that an appropriate education for the professional designer must include a sionsive body of technical knowledge in volving historical sources, tools, techniques, and materials; a methodology for encouraging the creative process; and the attainment of the requisite leve of skill to express visual ideas with clar ity. While being fully equipped to meet day's designer must also achieve sufficient educational breadth to adapt suc cessfully to the varying demands imposed on his work by economic, socia and psychological factors.
The academic programs of the Deted by the National Association of Schools of Art and Design and the Foundation for Interior Design Education and Research. Student demand for these programs is high and "impacted status" has been declared for the Graphic DeSign (Visual Communications Design) gram. Requirements for admission and degree requirements are given below.

The greatest obstacle to change is not ignorance, but the illusion of knowledge. It is the role of the Humanities to not only preserve but also to constantly question established concepts of knowledge, knowledge, illusion or ignorance. In the Humanities, change is constantly postu lated as possible, potential, or necessary, in order to truly preserve our cultur al heritage as an active force and not a were dogma. Study in the Humanities challenging and lively.
At California State University, Lon Beach, the School of Humanities pursues this always challenging investigation in a dozen fields, ranging from the consideration of literary, linguistic, and philosophical monuments, to analysis can talk and listen to one another, the analysis of how we conceptualize and describe numbers and forms, and the use of technologies with which we com municate.
In the School of Humanities, complacency will find no comfort, and the may only reveal more directions to pursue. For none will the study of Humanities be a closure

Comparative literature is the study of literature without respect to national boundaries through methods of comparison of authors and cultures. It is also the interdisciplinary study of the relation ships of literature to the visual arts, music, history, language, philosophy, creative writing, theatre, film, and other areas. Comparative Literature is the critical analysis of textual material based on an understanding of important theoretical approaches. Students who complete a degree in comparative literature will be expected to know the nistory of able to analyze a literary text. Training in competent writing techniques, analytica reasoning and cross-cultural relationships fall naturally within the areas of the student's study. Comparative literature is an exciting, challenging discipline for bound by traditional ideas and for the student who is interested in the humanistic study of an interrelated world -a world that is his or her own
At CSULB, comparative literature also offers a strong focus in folklore studies ing literature and, more important, for the way we see ourselves and create our own environments.
Suggested Preparation: Course work in world literature, English composition and foreign language

One's experience of life is broadened and deepened through literature, and thinking is sharpened and clarified through the ty and practice of language and writing. One learns to see and to seek out he possibilities of language and to use add dimension and meaning to the life within and around.
The courses of study for the undergraduate English major are designed to enlarge the literary background study teaching, other professions or business careers.
Work in a foreign language is required for one of the options and recommended for the others, preferably to begin (if not continued from high school) in the lower division and to continue in the upguage is usually required to obtain an advanced degree, students aiming at such degrees should include language study in their undergraduate program.

Bachelor of Arts in English

 In planning a program of courses for the major in English, the student is adand limitations of the different options explained below. More detailed information about each option is available in the English Department office, but each student is also expected to consult a department faculty member regularly for advisement.The major in English, for all options, consists of 41 units. This total may no, satisfies general education requirements), but, upon petition to the English Department, may include courses taken in other departments. Because some courses are required in several options, a student desiring to change options credit toward the 41 -unit total.
A student may accelerate completion of the major in English by taking advantage of the department's credit by examination policy. Certain courses may be waived or substituted for under certain circumstances. Consul antion concerned.

Mathematics is fundamental to all scitraditional natural sciences but increasingly the social and economic sciences as well, and the increasing applicability of mathematical methods has been enhanced and accelerated by the development of the computer. Mathematics is also a vital aid to critical thinking and, at least to some, a thing of beauty in itself.
The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science provides instruction for students at all levels beyond high school mathematics, providing the com putational, analytic and programming skills needed for a variety of majors, as well as advanced theoretical courses for specialists in mathematics and computer science. As various degree opwith the knowledge and techniques needed for scientific, management and statistical applications, as well as the theoretical understanding needed for teaching, graduate study and lifelong professional growth. Beyond these, it hopes to instill a spirit of curiosity and healthy skepticism towards mathematical statements and results - a willingness to ask is to try to find the answers.

Undergraduate Degree

Programs

The Mathematics Department offers four undergraduate degree programs in mathematical sciences.

Bachelor of Arts in ## Mathematics

The student in this program is required to take a selection of fundamenthe most flexible program, in which the greatest number of electives may be chosen by the student. Elective upper division mathematics courses are avai able which meet the needs of students preparing for a variety of goals, includ ing careers in industry and government, secondary teaching and graduate study the requirements for a formal option in applied mathematics, computer science or statistics may wish to elect courses in one or all of these areas as part of this degree program.

To achieve flexibility, only 15 of the required 30 unis are specilied. Students and plan a program with an advisor. For additional information and to secure an advisor contact the Mathematics Department office.

Bachelor of Arts in Mathematics Option in Applied Mathematics
The student who is most interested in he applications of mathematics has a choice of two suboptions: the first concentrates on the applications in engineering and science while the second oncentrates on the applications to management. In both suboptions course are specified in the major areas of application. The student is prepared for a career in business, industry or government or for graduate study.

Mediterranean Studies offers an inter disciplinary approach to the classical world which combines history, language, philosophy and literature. Since the pro gram draws upon a variety of traditional o diverse courses designed to present various aspects of the classical world. Specifically, this program is designed to serve the interests and goals of ( 1 ) classics, history, philosophy, English and comparative literature majors who about the ancient world (2) students who plan to teach about this period o eachers already in the field who need to update their own knowledge, (3) the general student who wishes to explore urther educational dimension by focusing on the roots of the Western tradition. The Classics Club, the student associactive The Club together with Program faculty, go on excursions to the Getty Museum, make semi-annual trips to Greek restaurants in the greater Los Aneles area, and attend plays and other the Ancient Mediterranean World

Students pursuing any approved degree or credential program of the University may at the same time earn a Ce tificate in Mediterranean Studies Courses taken to meet the requirements applicable, to meet general education requirements or the degree or credentia requirements of cooperating departments. Certification of successful com pletion of requirements will be issued tor of the Cortificate in Mediterranean Studies program. Interested students should apply to the Director, Protessor David Hood (FO2-108), or to members of the supporting faculty for further infor mation Requirements for the Ce

Philosophy (code 2-6807)

The undergraduate Philosophy program challenges students to think about some of the most profound questions people consider: "What is most impor ant in a human life?": "What can I ant in a human life?,' What can l beings have free will?"' "What are the guidelines for morality?"; "What is 'the soul', or 'the mind'?". No aspect of our ives is immune from philosophical scruiny. These and other questions are aised in courses in special areas of heory of knowledge, ethics, metaphysics, philosophy of religion, philosophy of science, and aesthetics. They are also raised in their historical context in courses which focus on great philosphers such as Plato, Aristotle, Kant, the great "Rationalists" and the great "Emcurriculum encourages students to examine our contemporary situation (with such courses as Existentialism, Phenomenology, Philosophy of Language, and Conflicts in Political Philosophy), and to extend their thinking with the phiosophies of other cultures (such as

In a world where science plays an ncreasingly important role and where essential for an informed citizenry, the School of Natural Sciences provides quality educational opportunities in the life and physical sciences. Students ar provided a broad-based, fundamenta challenged to think and act in a scientific way. Alumni of the School demonstrate that science graduates are well prepared to enter graduate and profes sional schools, or to assume respons le positions in industry or governmen ept that a university has a specia esponsibility toward academic exce ence and the advancement of knowledge. The faculty and staff of the Departments of Anatomy/Physiology. Biology, Chemistry, Geological Sciences, Microbiology and Physics/ an outstanding educational experience for all students.

Degrees Offered

All departments within the School of atural Sciences offer both the Bachelor of Scie Thees. Departments of Biology, Chemisry and Physics/Astronomy also offer the Bachelor of Arts degree, and the Department of Physics/Astronomy offers a Master of Arts degree. Each degree has unique requirements and students shou efer to a departmental section of this ments. A department advisor should be onsulted early, preferably prior to the irst semester of enrollment, in order to evelop an appropriate academic pla consistent with career goals

Consortium Programs

The School of Natural Sciences hosts he Southern California Ocean Studies ansortium. The consortium ond provides the mechanism whereby students rom CSU Dominguez Hills, Fullerton and Pomona can share courses and degree programs In addition consortium staf conduct research and facilitate the reearch of CSU faculty. The major focus is on harbors and coastal areas, with CSULB participates in the California Desert Studies Consortium which has a Desert Studies Center in the heart of the Mojave Desert at Soda Springs (formerl The surrounding area consists of typica Mojave Desert with dry lakes, sand dunes, and mountain ranges; it is the gateway to Death Valley and the Kelso Dunes. The Center has excellent faci ies for teaching field classes and for State Universities at Long Beach, Los Angeles, Fullerton, Pomona, Dominguez Hills, Northridge, and San Bernardino use the Center
Science Student Learning

Center

Recognizing that all students have unique learning needs, the Science these outside the traditional lecture hall and laboratories. The Center is equipped with a variety of equipment, in cluding Apple Il microcomputers and video cassette players. Materials for us with this equipment, as well as textand study guides are available for stu dent use. Qualified upper division and graduate students staff the Center and are available for some tutorial assisance. The Center's activities are designed for the science major and for the non-science maior who may be having difficulty with a new discipline of study.

Student Organizations

The School of Natural Sciences Stu dent Council is one of the most active and effective student organizations at the University. Their efforts have made significant contributions to the Schoors pus renowned scientists for seminars. In addition to the School-wide student organization, each department has an active student organization that plays a vital role in providing peer support fo science maiors.

Pre-Health Professions Office (FO5-112)

Professional schools in many univers ties either require or recommend that applicants complete four-year programs for admission. Although the professional schools do not always require a bacheor's degree, they generally encourage basic preparation and a broad general education leading to that degree before beginning specialization Students planning a career as a health professional can begin preparing ing services coordinated by the Pre Health Professions Office. Pamphlets catalogs, and college admissions and esting information are available in the office for those interested in such fields of study as medicine, dentistry, optom etry, osteopathy, pharmacy, podiatry, and veterinary medicine.. The office maintains a file on each student which, among other features, allows students to have one centralized location for all of their letters of recommendation. Letter are copied free of charge and sent to profess
The Organization of Preprofessional Students (T.O.P.S.) organizes various social and professional functions provid ing an excellent information network an peer advising group. Chicanos for Com munity Medicine (CCM) sponsors a va community outreach activities, workshops on summer programs for minority students, and training on interview tech niques. The Black Students in Science Organization (BSSO) also provides a variety of outreach and peer suppor activities.
CSULB alumni who are practicing health professionals, provides role models for pre-health professions students as well as providing guidance and insight into variety of health professions and profes sional schools.

Natural Science Museum

The School of Natural tains a modest Natural Science Museum in which the displays and exhibits encourage visitor participation as much as possible. Each week during the acastudents from Los Angeles and Orange County elementary, junior high and high schools. The museum is a great tool to ward science and provides a forum for people to get a glimpse of University Life.

The School also operates the Mobile Science Museum, which extends the campus Science Museum into the comunity. This innovative museum trav to schools and community groups, and exhibits featured in the campus museum. Like the campus Science Museum, the Mobile Science Museum's greatest asset is its ability to motivate people toward a better understanding o cience.

Science Education

The School of Natural Sciences has made a strong commitment to precolege science through the activities of its and a d sendary school science teach rs. Experienced teachers are encour aged to increase their science teaching effectiveness through a continuing program of inservice education. Some of ese activities, such as 'Bio-Forum' and Mini-Courses in Science,' have been onducted with support from the Nation such as those offered through Unive y Extension) have been self-supporting The Office also conducts occasional special programs for pre-college students and for school principals and parent organizations. In recent years, urday Sciencing for Kids' series and a tatewide series of conferences designed to improve science instruction in School Improvement Program' schools. n addition to its teaching activities, the Science Education Office also maintains an extensive Science and Environmental Education Curriculum Resource Center quides and related materials, textbooks, ournals, and selected audio-visua materials.

The Department of Anatomy and Physiology offers programs that lead to a bachelor's degree in Physiology, a minor in Physiology or a certificate in Biomedical Art. There are programs dements for students seeking admission to medical, dental, veterinary and other allied Health institutions of learning. The course of studies offered by the Department also prepares students for advanced study at the graduate level, as or government.
Special courses are offered to satisfy he basic science requirements of students majoring in Nursing, Physical herapy, Physical Education, Home Economics and other fields. Several ourses are designed to meet the Gen cal Science.
The Department also participates in the Master of Science degree in Biology through the Department of Biology. Students interested in graduate studie should obtain a brochure from the natomy and Physiology Department of

Biology Department

Advisory Council:
The Biology Department Advisory Council consists of individuals promiwide variety of biological disciplines. They advise the department regarding is instructional program and provide in ormation concerning opportunities for interaction between
Mr. Jack Anderson, Director, Southern Project: Mr. Brad Andrews, Curator of Mammals, Marineland of the Pacific: Mrs. Eunice Antosik, California Garden Clubs, Inc.; Mr. Willard Bascom; James Bell, M.D.; Dr. Craig C. Black Director, Natural History Museum of os Angeles County; Mr. Paul B. Engler, Agricultural Commissioner, County of Los Angeles: Mr. Leland R. Hill, Director of Port Planning. The Port of Long Beach; Dr. Charles Jenner, Rossmoor-EI Dorado Animal Hospital Mr. Randy McGlade, Interstate Electronics Corp.; Mr. Charles T. Mitchell,

President, MBC Applied Environmenlal Sciences; Dr. Richard A. Nesbit, D ector of Research, Beckman Instruments, Inc.; Dr. Frank W. Pelsue, Gen ral Manager, Southeast Mosquito Abatement Dist.; Dr. Robert W. Porter, H. Records, Branch Manager, Target Chemical Company; Mr. Paul D. Romero, Director, Parks and Recreation Department, County of Riverside; Mr. William Routhier, California Department of Food and Agriculture; Dr. Thomas B. Scanland; Dr. June Lindstedt Siva, Senior Science Adviso Richfield Co.
Programs in biology are offered to provide preparation for advanced study at the graduate level for pre-profession al programs in medicine, dentistry, and allied fields, as well as for teaching or careers in industry and government. The department offers a varied program in the biological sciences that can lead to a degree in any one ol the mario biology, or zoology. Courses in any of these degree programs should be selected in consultation with the major ad visor, who will be assigned in the department undergraduate office. Elective courses may be selected that provide an emphasis in one or a combention ecology genetics, marine biology, morphology and plant or animal physiology. (See De partment of Anatomy and Physiology): The department occupies facilities in three science buildings and has an electron microscope, a seawater sys tem, greenhouses, and research and cular plants, invertebrates (including insects), and vertebrates. Courses are offered in several areas of experimental biology. Because the campus is near the ocean, mountains, and deserts, the department is able to offer a number of field and laboratory courses in botany and vertebrate zoology
The Biology, Anatomy and Physiology and Art Departments offer an interdisciplinary program in biomedical art, which is described in the Art section
The Department of Biology also par ticipates in the interdisciplinary Center is listed in the Bulletin.

The Department of Biology offers a master of science degree for students completing advanced study. The avail able programs cover the full spectrum of biology from the molecular to the ecosystem levels and include both laborabresearch areas with the names of faculty specializing in these fields can be obtained from the department graduate office.

Financial Support

Assistantships

The Department of Biology offers a limited number of teaching and graduate assistant appointments. Forms requesting consideration for these appointments are available in the department graduate office. Duties consist of approximately 20 hours per week devoted to preparation and/or instruction in general undergraduate laboratory classes. These appointments are limited to a maximum of four semesters per individual.
The department also has a limited number of technical assistant positions as well as some hourly employment. Several members of the faculty have grants which provide for research assistantships of scholarships are availAble through the University Students should consider the following degree requirements as minimal. Those individuals desiring entrance into medical, dental, veterinary or graduate schools should check the requiremen ourses to take for any degree Spec cally, many professional and graduate schools require more calculus (either MATH 115 S and 116 or MATH 122, 123 and 224), and more organic chemistry (CHEM 321 A and 322 instead of 327 ).

Prerequisites

In addition to the prerequisites for enance into CSULB as a graduate stuent stated previously in this Bulletin uner Graduate Degrees and Post Baccaaureate Studies, the Department of

1. An undergraduate program that in required in one of the undergraduate degrees or options in the Department of Biology, CSULB.
2. An undergraduate overall grade point average of at least 2.75 , or a grade point average of at least .00 in the last 60 semester Therter) units completed
Subject (Advanced) Test in ology.
Applicatio
Prospective graduate students in biology, including CSULB graduates, must as described previously in this Bulletin and must also apply directly to the Department of Biology. All applicants mus submit the following documents directly o the department no later than 15 April he spring semester to receive consideration for admission:
3. Departmental Application Form available from the
4. Official transcripts of all college level academic work including that done at CSULB, in addition to hose transcripts required for gen eral graduat
C.S.U.L.B.;
5. Two letters of recommendation from persons familiar with the applicant's academic performance and research potential;
. Official report of scores on the Gubject (Advanced) Test in Bi gy The applicant should have taken this examination well prior to applying to the department, because the official score must reach the department by the deadlines above.

Review by the Graduate Studie Committee
The Graduate Studies Committee wil eview all folders completed by the ceptance of the applicant as a classified or conditionally classified graduate student or rejection of the applicant. All ac cepted students who expect to enroll in the next semester must schedule an inmittee during the in-person registration period. This interview will focus on counseling and orienting the applicant with special attention to any academic deficiencies Admission to the Department of Biology

as a Cl

(7621-2)
The Department of Biology will admit as a classified graduate student any ap plicant who:

1. Has met all prerequisites
. Has a complete folder of all re-
2. Has obtained acceptance by afac ulty member as the Chair of the student's thesis committee. The student should then set up a program (see below)

Admission to the Department of Biology as a Conditionally Classified Graduate Student (7621-1)

The Graduate Studies Committee will admit as conditionally classified gradu ate students those applicants deficien in prerequisites or lacking a chair for the thesis committee only under the following condition(s)

Applicants with course and/or unit deficiencies must make up those deficiencies. The Graduate Studies Committee will determine what deindicies each applicant has and ment Application Form which courses the applicant must take to make up these deficiencies. The student's thesis committee will also add these courses in addition to the minimum 30 units on the stulow ) spogram of study (see beall such deficiencies before attaining classified status.
2. Applicants must normally have an overall undergraduate Grade Point Average of at least 2.75 , or a GPA in the last 60 semester ( 90 quarter) units of at least 3.00. Applicants with an undergraduate GPA bewith an undergraduate GPA be- 60 ( 90 quarter) units may secure admission as a conditionally classified graduate student, but only if they can obtain sponsorship from a faculty member in the Department of Biology. Applicants with a low GPA must contact potential thesis advisors before applying to the deparment. This faculty member Studies Committee in writing a willingness to serve as the chair of the applicant's thesis committee and the reasons why the Graduate Studies Committee should admit the applicant. An applicant receiv must complete, with a grade of B or A, three probationary courses totaling at least nine units acceptable to the Graduate Studies Committee and the department chair before attaining classified status. If the applicant receives less than a B in any of the three courses, the applicant cannot continue pursuit of a Master's degree in this department.
3. Applicants who meet all prerequisites but who do not yet have a chair for their thesis committee will classified graduate students. Students who have not obtained a chair and set up a graduate program by the end of the second semester in residence following admission to the Master of Science program will be dropped from the program

The Program of Study

After admission to the department as a classified or conditionally classified graduate student, the student must esand thesis committee chair will select at east two additional members to serve on the student's thesis committee. The departmental Graduate Advisor serves as an ex-officio member of all thesis committees. Each student must prepare a written thesis proposal for approval by is committee will then meet with the student to determine what courses the student must take and indicate them on he Department of Biology Graduate Program Form

Advancement to Candidacy

In addition to the general university requirements stated previously under Post-Baccalaureate and Graduate De grees in this Bulletin, the student mus complete the following steps before re ceiving Candidate status in the Depart ment of Biology

1. Admission to the Department of Bi ology Master's Degree program a classified graduate student (see above).
2. Pass the University Writing Profi-
3. Establishment of a thesis commit tee and program of study (see above).
4. Achievement of a score at, or above, the 50th percentile on the Subjut (Advanced) Test in Biology GRE-STB). Students who fail to meet the minimum level in two or more attempts may petition the Graduate Studies Committee, through the chair of their thesis memmittee, to provide an akernate ment. If granted, the alternate method will consist of an exam administered by three faculty members selected by the Graduate tudies Committee. No member of he student's Thesis Committee graduate advisor will normally also participate in the examination. All nembers of the special examinafion committee must agree that the student has demonstrated extenve knowledge of the major areas flog tor ay not continue work in department. This requirement must be met by the end of the second semester in residence or the student will be dropped from the program.

Requirements for the Master of

In addition to the general University equirements stated previously in this uilletin, the student must meet the fol wing requirements before receiving ogy

1. Advancement to candidacy (see above)
Each program must include a minimum of 30 units of upper division and graduate courses, at least 180 which must come from the 500-600 series in biology. Each program

BIOL 698), one to three units of Diected Research (BIOL 697), one nit of Seminars (BIOL 580 or A/P 580) and two courses chosen from 661 . Of the 30 units, no more than . hree may come from Biol to2 six ay come from transfer credit and or other departments within CSULB. No more than two courses may have numbers between 300399.
3. Completion of a written thesis and he oral presentation of the thesis didate's thesis committee must read and approve of the thesis before the student may schedule the oral presentation. The student may not complete the thesis or give an oral presentation mer session.

The program in chemistry at the bach elor's degree level is planned to promote development of both a broad and science to serve as preparation for graduate work in chemistry or biochemstry, and to provide a foundation for those students seeking careers in teach ing, law, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and other health-related professions, and in industrial and governmental scientific endeavors. Tie B.S. American Chemical Society.
The Department of Chemistry offers graduate study leading to researchbased master of science degrees in chemistry and biochemistry. The candidate is urged to observe the general re quirements stated in the specific departmental requirements stated here and, more fully, in th Graduate Studies Brochure of the Department of Chemistry, available upon request
A limited number of teaching, gradu ate and research assistantships are time work in the instructional program a the freshman and sophomore level or work in the laboratory. Application forms for these positions are available from the Graduate Advisor, Department of Chem istry.

Transfer Students: A student who ransfers to the University must take a east 16 units of upper division chemis try courses here. To receive credit towards the major for courses taken elseWhere in place of CHEM 321A-B and/or位A-B and/or 377A-B, consent of the tory performance on appropriate profiz ciency examinations may also be required.

Bachelor of Science in  Chemistry (code 3-7661)

The bachelor of science degree program is intended to provide a thorough ning to pursue careers as protessional chemists or to do graduate study in emistry or biochemistry. This program, hen supplemented with study in other appropriate areas, can serve as prep aration for admission to the healn pro lessional schools (medicine, dentistry pharmacy, etc.). Each student should sors Acey Berryhill Goldish Harris Loeschen, Marsi, Mayfield, McDowell Tharp, or Wynston) to plan his or her in dividual program.
Chemistry majors must achieve a grade of C or better in all chemistry courses required for the major

B.S. candidates are strongly encourged to acquire competence in read ing cientific German, French, Russian, Chinese or Japanese

Bachelor of Arts in

Chemistry (code 2-7661)
The bachelor of arts degree program in chemistry is intended to provide a not in the depth required for a bachelor of science degree. This program, when complemented with study in other areas will serve as preparation for a career in chemical and related industries or sec ondary science education. The bachel preparation for medical and dental schools, and for graduate programs in the life sciences. In order to take full ad vantage of the bachelor of arts program for various career objectives, adequate counseling by chemistry advisors is indispensable. Each student must confer ually tailored program in chemistry and one or more complementary areas prio to beginning the course of study.

Transfer students

Students who transfer to the University must take at least 16 units of upper ivision Chemistry courses at he major for courses taken elsewher place of CHEM 321A/B, 371A or 377B, consent of the Department Chair is required. In addition, satisfac ory performance on appropriate pro ficiency examinations may be required.

Minor in Chemistry

(code 0-7661)

A minimum of 20 units of chemistry which must include CHEM 111A/B. Nine units must be taken from upper division chemistry courses.

Transfer Students:

A student who transfers to the Uniersity must take at least 12 units of upper division chemistry courses here. To receive credit toward the major for CHEM $321 \mathrm{~A}-\mathrm{B}$, CHEM 371 A B or CHEM 377A-B which have been taken elsewhere, cons nequired; also satisfactory performance on appropriate proficiency examinations may be required

Concurrent and/or Summer Enrollment in Another College
Students who wish to take course work in a community or other college to meet curricular requirements while enof Natural Scienaduates in the Scho appropriate department for prior approval to enroll in specific courses. This policy is for either concurrent enrollmen or summer enroilment. University policy must also be complied with. See "Concurrent Enrollment" and "Transfer of Un dergraduate Credit" in this Bulletin. Courses not receiving prior approval wil not be accepted for credit by the de partment.

Graduate Credit Earned as ## an Undergraduate

Chemistry Major

Graduate credit usually may not be earned in advance of the baccalaureate degree. However, based upon the rec ment Chairman the Chemistry DepartChemistry Department Graduate Studies Committee academic performance (a grade point average of 3.00 overall and 3.00 in the major), and promise of study a strievement in postgray may be student in his/her senior y maximum of 12 units of course work in the 400 and 500 level taken at this University toward his/her prospective grad uate program, subject to the following conditions:

1. The course work must be in addition to that required by the Chemis. degree in Chemistry
2. The undergraduate student must have a "Petition to Earn Credit in the Senior Year" approved by the appropriate Department graduate advisor, the Director of Graduate Studies for the School of Naturad uate Studies

Master of Science in  Chemistry (code 6-7661)

Prerequisites

1. Acceptance as a graduate student
b by the Chemistry Department. chemistry, or:
2. A bachelor's degree with undergraduate preparation in chemistry physics and mathematics equivlor of science degree with a maior in chemistry at this University
3. Entering graduate students are re quired to take placement examina tions in analytical, inorganic, organic and physical chemistry. Any student failing to take and pass a placement examinationire to enro in an appropriate course as recom mended by the Graduate Studies Committee. Usually the recommended courses are:
lytical chemistry
CHEM 431 if the subject is inorganic chemistry
CHEM 321 A and/or 322 if the subject is organic chemistry CHEM 371A and/or 371 B if the subject is physical chemistry
4. The placement examinations will be given on Monday and Tuesday of the week preceding the first day of instruction. The Graduate Stud es Committee evaluates the examinations and recommends apdeficiencies in chemistry. The chemistry graduate advisor meets with the student at this time to pre pare a tentative degree program.

Advancement to Candidacy

The department recommends ad vancement to candidacy after the grad uate student has

Either passed the placement examinations in analytical, inorganic organic and physical chemistry or passed the courses as recom mended by the Graduate Studies
2. Earned an average of at least 3.0 (B) in all work completed at this University as a graduate student.
3. Passed the Writing Proficiency

Examination.
4. Obtained approval of a graduate degree program by the chemistry chairman (in consultation with the Graduate Studies Committee) and the Dean of Graduate Studies.

The student is expected to be ad vanced to candidacy by the beginning Upon advancement to candidacy Thesis Committee will be selected consultation with the Graduate Studies Committee.

Requirements for the M

Science in Chemistry:

1. Advancement to candidacy at least one semest
2. The completion of a minimum of 30 units to be distributed in the following way:
(a) Minimum of nine units in chem stry lecture courses in the 500 series (excluding CHEM 595) These courses must be selec ed from at least two of the fol owing fields: analytical, inorganic, organic, physical and biological chemistry.
Two units of CHEM 595 .
(b) Two units of CHEM 595 . mum of 3 units of CHEM 697 and/or 695 and 4 to 6 units o 698.
(d) Nine to 12 units from 400 and 500 series courses (excluding f units depends on the num er of 600 level courses taken. A minimum of six units is recommended from two of the folowing three areas: CHEM 47 or 472), 441A, 421. At the dis retion of the Graduate Studies taken as an undergraduate may meet these requirement ut may not count toward the 30 unit requirement.
Changes in the above pattern course requirements may be made only at the discretion of e Graduate Studies Commi ate advisor.
3. Completion of an acceptable aster of Science in Biochemistry (code 6-7658)

Prerequisites:

1. Acceptance as a graduate student by the Chemistry Department
2. A bachelor's degree with a major in chemistry or one of the biological sciences. Prerequisite courses include CHEM 251,321 A, B, 377A, B 441A,B, MATH 122, 123, or their equivalents, and courses in gene al biology and microbiology. A stu dent deficient in any of these courses must complete the course as a graduate student.
3. Entering graduate students are required to take placement examina tions in analytical, biological, or ganic and physical chemistry. Any student failing to take and pass a placement examination in any of these subjects is required to enroll ignated courses are:

CHEM 451 if the subject is anaIytical chemistry
CHEM 441A and/or 441B if the subject is biochemistry CHEM 321 A and/or 322 if the subject is organic chemistry CHEM 371A and/or 371B; or is physical chemistry
4. The placement examinations will be given on Monday and Tuesday of instruction Entering students should correspond with the biochemistry graduate advisor before arrival to arrange to take these examinations. The Graduate Studes Committee evaluates the xaminations and recommends deficiencies in chemistry The biochemistry graduate advisor will meet with the student at this time to prepare a tentative degree program
Advancement to Candidacy:
The department recommends advancement to candidacy after the graduate student has

1. Either passed the placement examinations in analytical, biological. organic and physical chemistry or passed courses recommended by the Graduate Studies Committe for correcting the deficiencies. all graduate work completed at this University or transferred to meet degree requirements.
2. Passed the Writing Proficiency Examination.
3. Obtained approval of a graduate egree program by the graduat (in consultation with the Graduate Studies Committee) and the Dean of Graduate Studies

The criteria above should be met by the beginning of the third semester of graduate study. Deficient students may ontinue at the discretion of the Depart-

Certificate in Environmental

Studies

The Center for Environmental Studies has as its objectives (1) creation of an awareness of the kind and scope of environmental problems, (2) preparation to sues and (3) training in research in, and solution of, environmental problems. The center offers the Environmental Studies Certificate Program which is has three components: natural environment prerequisites (or corequisites), core requirements, and elective courses distributed in human behavior, resources and analysis and application. The pattern of completion or the certificate is directed toward both the techtificate is directed toward both thed student and the liberal arts, humanistically oriented student. Students in both areas must contact the Director, Center for Environmental Studies, for entry into the program. This contact should be made as early as possible in the student's acaceive counseling in the most appropriate course work.

Requirements for the Certificate in

The Geological Sciences include the study of the solid earth, the hydrosphere, and atmosphere. Within the broad field of Geological Science students may elect to take coursework leading to professional careers in such areas as geohydrology, urban geology. areas as geohydrology, urban geology, engineering geology, petroleum geology, mineral exploration and government service. The degree programs also prepare students for academic careers in schools or universities although additional work is required for such careers. All Earth Science and Geology majors must contact the department office to the first semester in residence.
The Geological Sciences Department participates in the interdisciplinary Center for Ocean Science Studies. See the Ocean Science Studies section of this Bulletin for additional information.

Bachelor of Science in

Geology (code 3-7664)

Within the broad field of geology, undergraduate students may elect to follow one of several alternative routes: general geology, marine geology, ralogy-petrology, paleontologystratigraphy, structural geology, petrol. eum geology.

Bachelor of Science in Earth

 Science (code 3-7663)The Earth Science program prepares students to understand the natural environment, earth resources, land use, pol ution and other areas of critical imporance to present and future world probinterdisciplinary emphases are offered: (1) Engineering Geology, (2) Exploratio Geophysics, (3) Earth Materials, and (4) Oceanography.

Admission to the Program

The basic requirement of admission to this graduate program is possession of a B.S. degree in geology or its equivalen. The student normally will be expected to have completed acceptable the following areas: geochemistry, stratigraphy, igneous and metamorphic pe trology and optical crystallography. field geology background is also expected of all geology majors. Students who do not have appropriate upper division course work in these areas may be sion course work in these areas may admitted to the program but will be expected to remove deficiencies or present acceptable alternatives.
All students are required to take the verbal, quantitative, and analytical por tions of the Graduate Record Examination and attain a satisfactory score betendance. Failure to meet this requirement will prevent admission candidacy and/or removal of the student from the MS program.
An examination may be given to transfer students each fall, for evaluation of possible deficiencies in course work aready completed. This examination tions, and will be used for advising pur poses.

However, the following are recommended as being appropriate and require a minimum of prereq uisite courses: GEOL 306, 324, 326, $341,419,431,463$, or 490 .

Master of Science Degree

in Geology

The Department of Geological Sciences is one of three departments in State University and Coleges in Southern California which offer courses leading to a master of science degree in geology. The three universities in the joint program are California State University, Long Beach, California Sta University, Northridge and Cal State University, Los Angeles.
The objectives of the master of science program in geology are (1) to offer a degree program which will train individuals with the competence required by the geological profession for employ ment in industry and government agencies, (2) to enable promising students ability required for admission to a Ph.D. program at other universities, (3) to provide an M.S. program with basic course work and research requirements for students planning to teach geology at the community college level.
Areas of specialization include Struc tural and Field Geology, Geochemistry ology and Petrology, Paleontology, Stra tigraphy, Petroleum Geology, Micropaleontology,Sedimentology, and Engi neering Geology.
Equipment for these specializations includes Atomic Absorption P.E. 5000 and Graphite Furnace, Carbon-Suiphur tograph, Electron Microprobe, Flame photometer, Hammer Seismic Unit (Engineering application), Gravity Meter (D-level), S.E.M., Surface Resistivity/Self Potential Apparatus, Telluric Current Recording Meter, Vertical Field Magne tometer, X-ray (XRD and XRF)

Advancement to candidacy:

Before the student can complete the M.S., he or she must be advanced to candidacy. The requirements for ad vancement are as follows:

Record Exam with an acceptable an acceptable
2. Completion of the writing proficiency examination requirement with a passing score.
3. Completion of six units of graduate level courses with a 3.0 grade point average, and attainment of 3.0 grade point average in all upper division and graduate work attempted, as well as in the courses listed in the graduate program
4. Prior completion of all deficiencies and incompletes.

Requirements for the Master of Science

The advising of incoming graduate students is carried out by the graduate advisor, who explains the requirements of the program and carries out the initial academic advising. Graduate students of the undergraduate emphases in ad dition to graduate work appropriate to the emphasis. Once an emphasis is chosen, a graduate committee is selected with the help of the graduate advisor. The final academic program is approved by the graduate committee, the department chairman, and the graduate advisor
All students must take 6 units of GEOL 698, Thesis. Directed Research, GEO 697 , may be used to fulfill up to four units of course requirements for the degree; however, they cannot normally be taken unless the student has completed 12 units of the graduate program with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher.
Candidates must take a minimum of 15 semester units of 500 or 600 level courses, including Thesis, and an additional 15 semester units of $300,400,500$ and 600 level courses chosen with the approval of the graduate committee. Units may be taken at another university in the joint program if suitable courses are not offered at CSULB. Note that $41 / 2$ quarter units are the equivalent of 3 semester units; also, off campus courses are not required.
With prior approval of the graduate committee, the graduate advisor and or 600 level courses from related areas in science, mathematics or engineering may be substituted within limits.

Microbiology is the study of microorganisms and their interactions with people and the environment. There are two options leading to the bachelor of science degree in microbiology that enable students to prepare for a variety of ology option is of a broad nature which emphasizes the genetics and biochemistry of the microbes and prepares students for careers in molecular biology, graduate school and related areas. medical microbiology option emphasizes the host-parasite relationships of dents for careers in clinical laboratory technology, medical research and related areas. Either option, with the inclusion of appropriate classes, may be utiized by pre-professional students wharre preparing for medical, dental, phar microbiology prepares students for a wide range of employment opportunities in clinical and public health fields, enetic engineering, environmentally reated fields, and industries concerning od, pharmaceuticals and in microbilogy combined with appropriate courses in education, can be utilized for community college teaching credenial. There is a common core of course for these varied educational and employment opportunities and specific programs can be arranged by counse Department.

The Master of Science and Master of Public Health degrees are available to qualified students preparing for profes sional careers in the fields of the paraand teaching, and those preparing for further studies at the doctoral level.

 Inquiries concerning the graduate or application forms for graduate ad mission should be directed to the Department Graduate Advisor. Preference will be given to applicants filing applicalions bef before October 15 for the springsemester. All applicants are urged to submit their applications, transcripts and three letters of recommendation to the Graduate Advisor before the above dates. Students must qualify physically as well as academically to participate in this degree program. Teaching assistant assistantships are avail resources of the Department to qualified individuals. Requests for application forms should be directed to the graduate advisor.

Prerequisites:

A bachelor's degree with a major in microbiology from this University with a GPA of 3.0 or better, or:
A bachelor's degree with a major in microbiology, bacteriology or related microbiology, bacteriology or related fields from an accredited institution, wi a GPA of 3.0 or better on the condition of completing deficiencies, if any, in the upper division course work as required of a microbiology major at this University, or:
Area from an accredree in any academic area from an accredited institution with average of 3.0 or better, on the condition of completing a minimum of 24 semester units (or the equivalent) of upper division courses in microbiology or related fields before starting the full graduate fields before starting the full graduate program. These courses must be comprogram. These courses must be com parable to those required of a major in microbiology at this University, and should include but not be limited to: medical bacteriology, immunology and serology, organic chemistry and biochemistry (two semesters). Unit credit for a course in General Microbiology if for a course in General Microbiology, if taken as an upper division course, may apply to the graduate program, or: A student whose overall undergraduate GPA is less than 3.0, but who shows promise in all other respects, may be given special consideration for admission.
and tentative accepsion to the University and tentative acceptance by the Department, each student will be interviewed by the Department Graduate Committee or the Graduate Advisor to formalize the acceptance by the Department, determine the student's overall caliber for graduate studies, evaluate transcript ciencies and counsel the student in his/her chosen discipline. A qualified student is thus admitted to the graduate degree curriculum in microbiology with conditionally classified graduate stand ing.

Master of Public Health

General Information

The Master of Public Health degree is planned for professionals who have already had experience within a healthrelated field. It is designed to be con study. There is a core curriculum and wo options. Rather than a thesis, field experience and a comprehensive examination are required. The program ment of Microbiourses. The Depations under this degree program and the Department of Health Science offers the Option in Community Health Education

Option in Medical Laboratory

This option provides advanced instruction necessary for laboratory per onnel to advance to senior laboratory and supervisory positions.

Option in Nursing Epidemiology

 (code 7-7656)This option provides advanced instruction for nurses with bachelor degrees who wish to be injection control nurses or practicing epidemiologists in ments.
Prerequisites:
Criteria for admission to the program are: (1) a bachelor's degree in biologica sis for the medical laboratory superviso option, or a bachelor's degree in nursing or the nurse epidemiology option; (2) minimum overall GPA of 2.5; (3) three etters of recommendation; and (4) two years of full professional experience.

Advancement to Candidacy:

1. Upon acceptance by the Depart ment, a committee will be established for each student specific to her/his chosen and related fields of interest.
. After satisfactory completion of al prerequisites, the committee will or advancement to candidacy.

Requirements for the Master of

3. A final comprehensive examination after course work and field experience are completed.
All students must take the following core curriculum: BIOL 562, MICR 429, core curriculum: BIO HCA 400. HSC 528 .
For Option I, Medical Laboratory Supervisor, the following courses are re696.

For Option II, Nurse Epidemiologist, the following courses are required: EE 407, MICR 425, 427, 691, 696.
For both degree options a student who wishes to demonstrate prior competence by examination and/or course work in either a core or option requirement may be permitted to substitute a course(s) in the same or a related area with the approval of both the student's faculty advisor and an instructor of the specific course(s) in which the student petence to complete the total of 30 units required for the degree. Elective courses for the two options may be se lected from upper division or graduate courses in microbiology, biology, chemistry, psychology or business administration, in consultation with the faculty advisor and the advisory committee.

American studies is an interdisciplinary study of American culture. The American Studies Program offers a major leading to the bachelor's degree, a minor, a single subject teaching credential (in cooperation with English), a Liberal Studies concentration. The program also offers a variety of general education and interdisciplinary courses. Most students majoring or minoring in American Studies are interested in both (1) studying American culture as a whole from several disciplinary perspectives and (2) studying in depth a problem or theme according to individual choice. consists of a six course core sequence and a five course elective pattern that centers on one theme or problem.
The American Studies Program is governed by a committee of faculty from various departments and schools who also serve as advisors. Students majoring in American Studies confer with adrecorded on official advising forms.
In addition to providing a broad lib al education focusing on American culture, traditions and institutions, the major in American Studies offers a useful background for careers in law, journalism, public service, government, business and teaching. The program also work in American Studies and related fields.
In preparation for the upper division major in American Studies, students are expected to have completed lower division courses appropriate as background to the study of American culture. Students planning to major in American Studies should consult the program director or one of the above-named faculty advisors early in their academic careers for general education and preparatory ing credential information.

When resources are scarce, difficult choices must be made on how resources are to be divided among comace that addresses the allocation of carce resources. When applied to ind viduals, economics attempts to explain and predict the behavior of individual as consumers, as managers of rms nd as government officials. When ap attempts to explain and predict the economy's total output, level of employmont and price level (inflation). The tool of economics can be used to analyze and predict the effects of changes in the the behavior of individuals or society.

Geography integrates information from many social and natural sciences by focusing upon human activities within the context of their physical and cultura environment. Because of the diversity of subject matter which it considers, geography offers a broad, iliberan educers. These include elementary, secondary and college teaching; cartography; regional, urban and environmental planning; business; government and the for eign service.
The Geography Department offers the gachelor of arts and master of arts degrees, as well as a minor. Certain geoging credential programs; to the degree in liberal studies and to certificate programs in environmental, iberal, uban, Asian, Latin American,
East European studies.
Students may obtain materials from the department describing the geography programs and courses ed for career preparation.
The master of arts degree in geography is designed for those wishing to ex pand their geographic competence bepand their geographic the bachelor's degree, for those seeking teaching credentials where the master's degree is required and as preparation for furt study elsewhere. Candidates are responsible for observing the general as the specific departmental requirements contained in the Geography Mas ter of Arts Handbook.

The Cartography Certificate program offers specialized training in a variety of heoretical and applied cartographic techniques. The program is designed to provide experience in communication through maps and serves as a supplement to standard degree programs. provides essential training for those seeking map making careers in both the public and private sector
The program is characterized by an interdisciplinary apprach reflectin interdisciplinary approach reflecting the nature of the field, which has two major aspects - thematic and topographic. Those skills required by both branches are encompassed by a core program and the two concentrations provide spe cific training for each of the two types of cific training for each of the two types of cartography.

The Thematic/General concentration is designed for students whose goals involve graduate programs in cartography mercial map making firms, planning departments and the like. The Topographic concentration is designed for the stuor geological research firms or agencies.

The Urban and Regional Studies Program conducted by the Department of Geography and faculty of several other Geography and faculty of several other eparmments offers training in a variety m areas. The certificate program is em areas. The certificate program is designed to provide exposure to the analysis of urban and regional problems and serves as an excellent supplement standard degree programs at both he undergraduate and graduate levels. toffers essential training for those seeking both private sector and public sector ban region, its development, problems, and special communities.
Because urban and regional problems cut across such a variety of disciplines, the program is characterized by an interdisciplinary approach. This is accomplished within the core curriculum plinary training and experience and within elective elements of the certificate curriculum by allowing students to draw ogether in a distinctive mix related courses trom a variety of other departvides essential knowledge of the promics of urban regions. This approach assures a common core of essential knowledge, while allowing flexibility to each student in designing an individualized program of study using electives drawn from a variety of relevant disciplinary concentrations. The Certificate sa 21-unit course of study comprised of 6 units of core requirements and 15 elective units.
A brochure describing the Urban and Regional Studies Certificate Program in greater detail is available in the Office o he School of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

The Human Development Program is designed to provide students with a fundamental interdisciplinary understanding of human growth and development throughout the life cycle. The program of study concentrates on the psychodimensions of human development and on the underlying processes and structures which support that development. In addition a variety of experiences in community agencies and/or educational settings enables students to integrate knowledge with career goals in a variety of human service fields. The curriculum is flexible and designed to help students meet a variety of educational needs through a wide selection of courses appropriate to individual interests and goals. Courses should be selected in consultation with the program advisor.
Students desiring information should Students desiring information should contact the department office for referral to the faculty advisor. Advising is a two step process: monthly advisement orientations are presented in the student lounge (FO4-270) for all new students and any student seeking more informa tion about the major or concentration. (Schedules are posted at the lounge and in the Program office - FO 4-165.) Following initial orientation, students meet in individual appointments with the advisor to develop individual plans, file graduation check sheets, and obtain other advisement information, as needed.

Students interested in Human Development may choose one of two options Studies Major with Human Developmen Concentration. Graduate programs may be developed under the auspices of the Special Major Program.
Brochures, course sequence plans listings and descriptions of specific tained from liberal studies or human development program offices. Students can plan a program geared to specific career requirements (i.e., Gerontology certificate, Child Development certificate, Children's Center Credential, Multiple Subjects Credential, or graduate work in human development and its related disciplines). Early Advisement is strongly recommended.
The Human Development Student Association is an active group open to all students enrolled in Human Development classes. The HDSA has regularly verse activities including: speakers, films, and student-faculty parties. HDSA activities are announced in the HDSA Newsletter also available in the Program office.

Master of Social Work (code

7-8555)

The Master of Social Work program was admitted to candidacy for accred tation by the Council on Social Work Education. The goal of the Master of Social Work (MSW) program is education which stresses the worth and dignity of individuals, the interdependence among peoples, and the common human bond that unites all peoples. This is essentially an international and intercultural stance which requires a respect for differences spective and a development of capacity to practice social work in an increasingly multi-cultural environment. The crosscultural focus has been established in response to the development of a world community, the changing population characteristics of the University and ad the goals and objectives of the profession of social work.
The master's program emphasizes an ecological perspective which focuses on the fit and interactions of a person or system in relation to the various environthis perspective, knowledge, values, and skills are used in a change-oriented process with a cross-cultural context to help individuals and social units achieve toward improved quality of life and social participation, including advocacy for just institutions and equitable acces oop thanities and resources, sion as the provision of an educational program which does the following:
(1) Provides knowledge of, and expe rience with, ethnic diversity, teaches skill in ethnic-sensitive practice, and provides motivation and skill to combat oppressive policies and discriminatiol. As opportunity for graduate education to students of various ethnic, racial, and socio-economic backgrounds who have life experience in bridging cultural gaps.
(2) Contributes to the quality of social services delivered in the adjacen tura, San Bernardino, Riverside, and Orange Counties - by providing an opportunity for advanced education to students who are arready employed in the social sencurrently maintain employment within the social services and participate in the program to develop advanced skills in their area. Quality of services is also enhanced through close col laboration nity service agencies offering fieldwork experiences and through the labor force of MSW's educated in a program with cross-cultural emphasis and spe cializations which reflect the needsll as the needs of urban communities nationally.
(3) Prepares social workers for leadership and specialized practice with a specific population group. The program maintains high standards and prepares social workers for the depth and complexity

Students desiring information should to one of the faculty advisors. It is the goal of the Women's Studies Program to provide for students, the University, and he community an intellectual context from which it is possible to study the experience of women. By definition, this ural lines: it means that we are in the University not only to fill in gaps and to acilitate the development of coherent bodies of knowledge about women in established disciplines, but that we represent a core of emerging knowledge hat is growing into a new discipline. dents with the knowledge, skills, and perception necessary to their realization of the fullest range of options available to them as human beings. We want to provide and encourage contexts conducive to academic excellence and sensist students in 1) the reexamination of raditional ideas about women and men in cultures characterized by patterns of sex-role stereotyping; 2) the acquisition of an understanding of the history and contributions of women of varying socia acial, and ethnic backgrounds; 3 ) deunderstand and appreciate the implications of the last two decades of feminist theory and research; and 4) preparing or a variety of vocations which increasingly demand knowledge about womn's experience.

Women's Studies, in its own Progran and through courses in other departments and disciplines, offers the Univer sity the intellectual excitement inherent in the development of a new discipline, and a humanistic perspective from which to view the accumulated knowledge of other disciplines, particularly their assumptions about women actors and subjects. Women's Studies encourages the development of research and curriculum related to women in other disciplines and departments throughout the University. We also provide information and advising for students and other members of the Univerand women's studies The Women's Studies Program offers a minor which may be combined with many majors, and the American Studies major includes a concentration in Women in American society. CSULB also ofundergraduate level through which students may design a major combining Women's Studies with another discipline. Designated Women's Studies courses may be used to fulfill the Social Science (Category II and other) Genera Education requirement, as well as I.C
Other progr
ering courses on and departments o which are cross-listed with Women's Studies, include Anthropology, American Indian Studies, Comparative Litera ture, English, History, Home Economics ical Education, Psychology Radio- Television, Religious Studies, Social Welfare Sociology and Speech Communication.

The California State

University

The individual California State Col eges were brought together as a system by the Donahoe Higher Education Act of 1960. In 1972 the system became The California State University and Col leges and in 1982 the system became The California State University. Today, 18 versity."
The oldest campus - San Jose State University - was founded as a Norma School in 1857 and became the first institution of public higher education in California. The newest campus - Galigan instruction in 1970 Responsibility for The California Stat University is vested in the Board of Trustees, most of whose members are appointed by the Governor. The Trustees appoint the Chancelor, who is the and the Presidents, who are the chief executive officers on the respective campuses.
The Trustees, the Chancellor, and the Presidents develop systemwide policy with actual implementation at the campus level taking place through broadly ademic Senate of The California State University, made up of elected represen tatives of the faculty from each campus recommends academic policy to the Board of Trustees through the Chancel lor.

Academic excellence has been sity through a distinguished State Uni whose primary responsibility is creating a learning environment where a student might grow with effective teaching While each campus in the system has its character all campuses, as multipurpose institutions, offer undergraduate and graduate instruction for professional and occupational goals as well as broad liberal education. All of the campuses require for graduation a basic program "General Education-Breadth Requirelor's degree or major field selected by the student.
The CSU offers more than 1,500 bachelor's and master's degree programs in some 200 subject areas. Nearly 500 of dents can complete all upper-division and graduate requirements by part-time late afternoon and evening study. In addition, a variety of teaching and School service credential programs are available. Many faculty members are involved in instructionally-related redoctoral degres are offered jointly the University of California and with private institutions in Calfornia System enrollments total approximately 325,000 students, who are taught by a taculty of 19,100.
