Informal Resolution

- Complainants may choose to attempt an early resolution prior to, or instead of, filing a formal complaint.
- The purpose of the Early Resolution Process is to explore whether the Complainant's concern can be resolved by the campus without an investigation.
- Possible outcomes include interim remedies or disciplinary actions.
- If early resolution is not reached, the Complainant has a right to file a formal complaint.

Investigation Process

- The Title IX Coordinator/DHR Administrator will determine whether to open an investigation after making a preliminary inquiry into the allegations.
- An investigation may not be warranted where the reported information is insufficient.
- May be initiated by the university if warranted even if a written complaint has not been filed.
- Complainant and Respondent can appeal outcome to the Chancellor's Office.
- Some Title IX cases may be forwarded to a hearing (please see the Addendum to EO 1096/1097).

M @

Complainant and Respondent have a right to an Advisor. The Advisor cannot be anyone who is an involved party, potential witness, or who has a disciplinary role. The Advisor may not speak on behalf of the Complainant or the Respondent (Interim Art. VII, Sec. B, 1).

Non-Retaliation

All participating parties, including any witnesses you may have listed, are protected under the non-retaliation policy (EO 1096/1097 Art. I, Sec. C).

#

The university's confidentiality policy is on a need to know basis. The university's obligation is to take appropriate action to stop prohibited behavior and to prevent retaliation. This may preempt any request for anonymity or confidentiality (EO 1096/1097 Art. III, Sec. B, Sub. 5).

U

An investigation can take 100 working days (non-weekends, non-holidays) from the date the complaint is accepted for investigation, not including a Title IX hearing (EO 1096/1097 Art. III, Sec. B, Sub. 7).
