

2024 CNSM OUTSTANDING THESIS AWARDS

Celebrate the 75th Commencement
In recognition of most outstanding theses

M.S. theses completed and submitted for acceptance to the library by established deadlines for degree completion in Summer 2023, Fall 2023, Winter 2024, or Spring 2024 are eligible for consideration for the Outstanding Thesis Award in their major department. CNSM recognizes up to six (one possible in each department) truly outstanding theses. Outstanding Theses are nominated by graduate thesis advisors.

Deadlines

- Advisor nominations due to department offices: Friday, March 1, 2024.
- Department recommendation due to the CNSM College Office: Monday, March 11, 2024.

Criteria

- Quality of presentation – appearance, format, style, language, clarity, etc.
- Quality of research – scientific methodology, likelihood of publication (i.e., presentation at professional conference, manuscript submitted for publication, etc.)

Directions

Nominees/Nominators: By Friday, March 1, 2024, send an email from your @csulb.edu email address to your respective major department (see CNSM Commencement Awards for department email addresses) with the following information in the body of the email:
