FUNDED PROJECTS

Crutchfield, R. M. (2024-2026) The Center for Equitable Higher Education (CEHE) Operations grants. With support from the College Futures Foundation ($400,000), California Community Foundation ($100,000), and Samueli Foundation ($25,000), CEHE has continued to implement its strategic plan. Specifically, CEHE is leading the field with critical research, building research capacity amongst CSU faculty and students, and collaborating with basic needs practitioners, researchers, and policy makers.

Crutchfield, R. M. (2023-2026) The Center for Equitable Higher Education: The Student Participatory Action Research and Knowledge (SPARK) Program. CEHE was by funded by R&S Kayne Foundation ($125,000) and the ECMC Foundation ($500,000) to design, pilot, implement, and evaluate the Student Participatory Action Research and Knowledge (SPARK) program. The SPARK Program catalyzes student-led participatory action research (PAR) to address college student basic needs across California. Through hands-on research and collaboration, students help shape advocacy and improve policies and practices that support basic needs, ensuring all California college students have the resources to succeed. SPARK teams are student researchers working alongside campus faculty leads or community-based organization (CBO) staff, with support and guidance from CEHE.

- Crutchfield, R. M. (2024-2025). The Center for Equitable Higher Education (CEHE). The Rio Hondo College HOPE Scholars Program contracted ($90,000) with CEHE to complete a comprehensive assessment of their basic need basic needs student support services. The HOPE Scholars Program was created in 2018 and was developed to address the holistic needs of students who are transitionally unhoused or experiencing homelessness. CEHE was contracted to assess how HOPE Scholars implements strategies to provide students with housing and food relief to better understand the experiences of students served by Rio Hondo College's HOPE Scholars, how the program provides its services, how those services influence the experiences of student participants, and identify areas of growth to support student success including retention, persistence, and graduation. This assessment serves to inform Rio Hondo College as it supports students facing housing insecurity or homelessness.
