

Untitled II. Comedy. (Long Beach Press, April 27, 1911).

Commentary: According to the Long Beach Press, unfortunately, the name of this first “movie play” and the featured players were not mentioned.

Summary: This comedy depicted the arrival of a country girl to a large city where she encounters a hobo. “The pair were accompanied by a motley group of country bumpkins, fantastically dressed, whose actions greatly amused the crowd of spectators.”
