Get your Tickets on the App

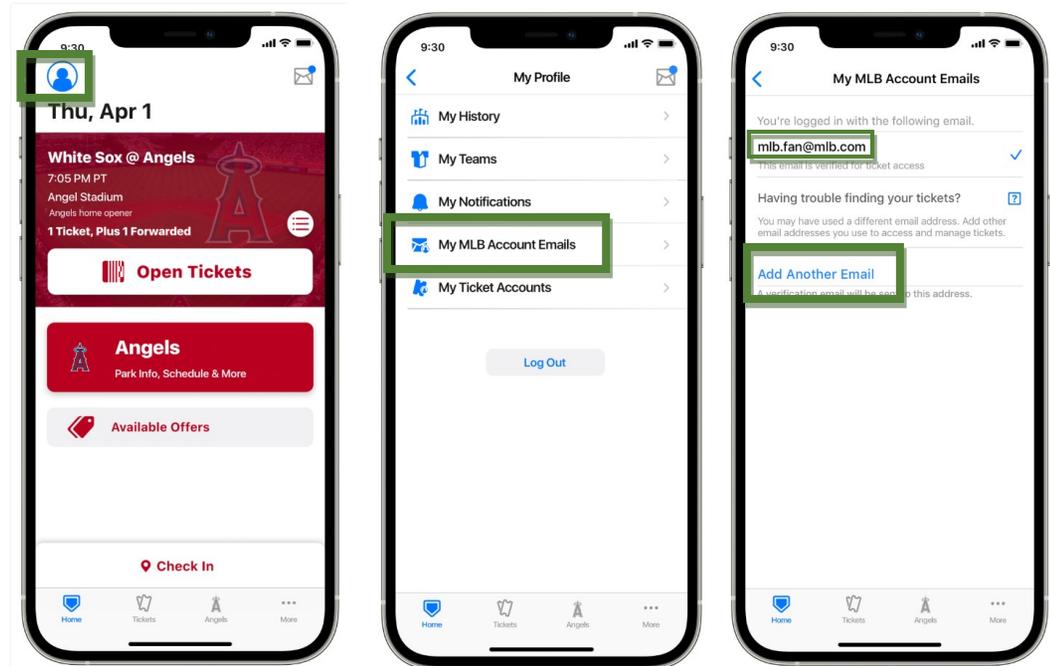

From the Home Page:

Click on the blue profile icon in the top right hand corner to open your profile.

Once on the My Profile screen, click on My MLB Account Emails.

Verify that your email address is displayed on the My MLB Account Emails Screen.

If not, tap Add Another Email. If you're attempting to link a NEW email, you'll receive an MLB.com email asking you to Grant Access to the app.

Please note: When adding an email to your account, please be patient for verification email from MLB. This may take a few minutes.

Tap Grant Access from the email and then re-open the app and refresh the Tickets screen.

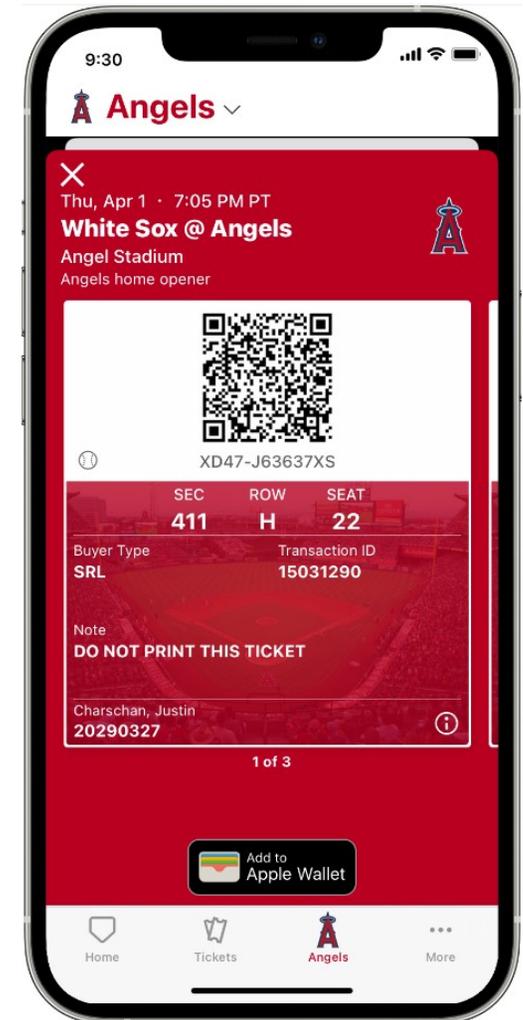

Once verified, your email address and Angels ticket account number should now appear in the My Ticket Accounts screen, and your ticket inventory will appear in Tickets menu! Keep in mind that you can link multiple ticketing accounts and email addresses to your app, so if you utilize another email account for other purchases, you can add that here.

How to Forward Tickets

Mobile tickets can be forwarded via email or a messaging link. When you forward a ticket, it will still appear on the list of tickets in your Ballpark app, but it will not feature a mobile barcode.

Mobile tickets without barcodes cannot be used for entry into Angel Stadium. Once accepted by the recipient, a new mobile barcode will render in their Ballpark App.

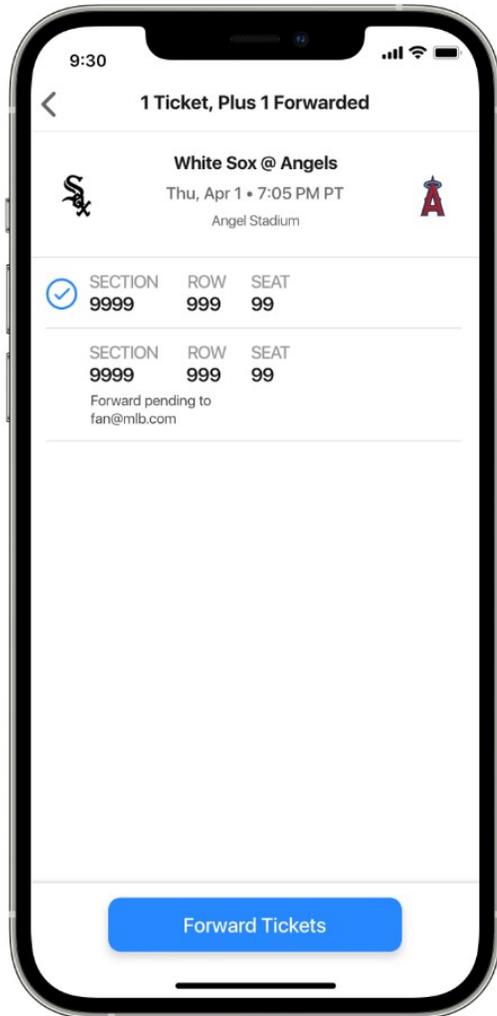

You may choose to recall a forwarded ticket and have it reinstated as a live mobile ticket in your Ballpark app. Instructions on how to cancel a forwarded ticket are provided on a later page.

How to enter an Angels game at Angel Stadium

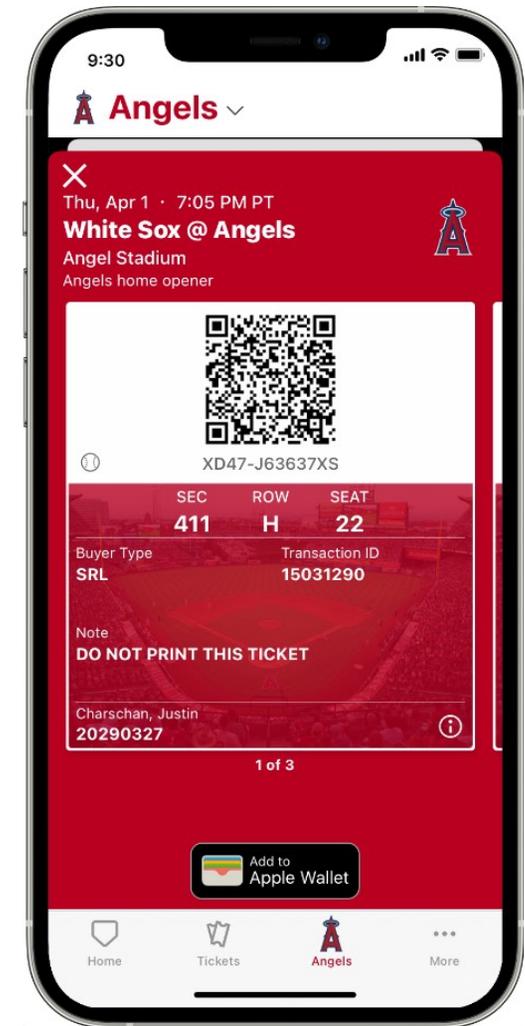

Ready to enter Angel Stadium? Simply have the Ballpark app open, pull up your ticket barcode for that day's game and present it to the gate attendant to be scanned.

If you're entering with a group, you have the option to scan multiple tickets on one device, or forward tickets to your group in advance to be scanned via the Ballpark app on their devices.

Having issues scanning in? Be sure to adjust your screen's brightness and watch out for glares from lights or the sun, both of which may prevent your mobile ticket from scanning properly.

Making your way to your seats at Angel Stadium? Simply show your usher your mobile ticket on the Ballpark app to be directed to your seat.

Note: If you have both the Ballpark app as well as a printed ticket for the same seat, the first ticket scanned is the only one that will allow entry into Angel Stadium. Once a ticket has been scanned, it cannot be forwarded.
