

California State University, Long Beach

Go Virtual UnConference

Fall 2020

Academic Technology Services

Cynthia Gautreau, Ed.D.

Director, Master of Science Instructional Design & Technology
Director, SchoolsFirst Center for Creativity and Critical Thinking
CSU-Fullerton

Dr. Cynthia Gautreau is a professor at California State University Fullerton in the College of Education. She is Director of the Master of Science in Instructional Design and Technology program. Her experience includes teaching in Southern California public schools, academic technology consulting in higher education, and graduate instruction. Dr. Gautreau also directs the Center for Creativity and Critical Thinking, a center that focuses on emerging technologies including augmented reality and virtual reality in teaching and learning.