Approaches to Building a Career in Translation

A guest lecture by Laura Nagle

Freelance Translator (French and Spanish to English)

Laura Nagle is a freelance translator and writer based in Indianapolis. She holds American Translators Association certification in French>English and Spanish>English translation and was named a 2020 Travel Fellow by the American Literary Translators Association. She frequently translates legal documents and promotional texts for performing arts organizations and classical musicians. Laura is currently working on the first complete translation into English of Prosper Mérimée's genre-defying 1827 hoax, La Guzla.
