

Steve Yoho is a retired aerospace business professional with over 34 years' experience in Financial Management. He was employed by Northrop Grumman in Redondo Beach as Mechanical Cost Manager at Space Park. Previously, he was the Deputy Business Manager for the Payload Project on the Advance Mission Programs where he was responsible for over $4B in total budget and managed the daily business operations with 20 business professionals and over 650 engineering and manufacturing staff supporting the Payloads project. Prior to his employment with Northrop Grumman, Mr. Yoho was employed by Hughes Aircraft and Boeing.

He serves on the Advisory Board for the Student Center for Professional Development in the College of Business at CSULB. This includes the Corporate Mentoring Program, Junior Mentoring Program, Community Scholars Program, and all the Business Certificate Workshops. He has been mentoring CSULB business students for twelve years and was a member of the SCPD Board for six years. He is a 1982 COB graduate with two degrees in Finance. While working at Northrop Grumman he was the point of contact for hiring business interns from the College of Business at CSULB. Mr. Yoho has helped over 70 students get interviews and internships which lead to a solid foundation for their careers.